“As you go forth, when you encounter folks who still hold the old prejudices because they've only been around folks like themselves, when you meet folks who think they know all the answers because they've never heard any other viewpoints, it's up to you to help them see things differently.”

Watch First Lady Michelle Obama give graduation talk: <http://bit.ly/11BZ2S4>

It was an honor and made me very proud to personally witness the California Legislature in recognition of Sheriff Crawford. Mr. Crawford served Alpine County as a deputy and Sheriff for the last 20 years. He's also recognized as the 1st Native American Sheriff in the State of California. Sheriff Crawford exemplifies the strength and dignity of the Washoe Tribe. Congratulations Sheriff Crawford and good luck with your future endeavors. You'll be greatly missed as our random Santa Clause and insuring a safe and happy Hung A Lel Ti Community.

Respectively, Geoffrey B. Ellis

At yesterday morning's Alpine County Board of Supervisors meeting, Sheriff John Crawford received a wonderful award – a special resolution from the California Legislature honoring his many years of dedicated service. Sheriff Crawford will be retiring this year.

Congratulations, Sheriff Crawford!

Councilman Ellis, Cole, Greg, Lane and the Washoe IT/telecommunications team were at the meeting providing a briefing for the Supervisors on the Hawkins Peak microwave backhaul project for Hung A Lel Ti Community and County residents, and were fortunate to be able to observe this outstanding tribute and to take the attached photos of the event.

Office of Indian Alcohol and Substance Abuse (OIASA) Webinar: Engaging Families in Youth Substance Abuse Prevention and Recovery

Families are critical supports for youth in substance abuse prevention and recovery and can be the biggest asset or an obstacle. OIASA is sponsoring this presentation, which will focus on the approaches staff can use while working with youth to create a supportive home environment while taking into account the historical or ongoing trauma many American Indian and Alaska Native communities are struggling with.

Objectives include:

1. Successful family engagement strategies
2. Discussion of some of the challenges and how do you overcome them? (absent or drug addicted parents, non--acceptance of LGBT/Two--Spirit, etc.)

Have you noticed the Mosquitos are already out! Here is a homemade trap to help keep you and the kiddos from being a blood donor!!! (Needless to say, there's been a temperature change! sdc)

HOMEMADE MOSQUITO TRAP:

Items needed:

- 1 cup of water
- 1/4 cup of brown sugar
- 1 gram of yeast
- 1 2-liter bottle

HOW:

1. Cut the plastic bottle in half.
2. Mix brown sugar with hot water. Let cool. When cold, pour in the bottom half of the bottle.
3. Add the yeast. No need to mix. It creates carbon dioxide, which attracts mosquitoes.

4. Place the funnel part, upside down, into the other half of the bottle, taping them together if desired.

5. Wrap the bottle with something black, leaving the top uncovered, and place it outside in an area away from your normal gathering area. (Mosquitoes are also drawn to the color black.)

Change the solution every 2 weeks for continuous control.

Leading up to the June 23, 2014 White House Summit on Working Families, the Department of Labor will host forums across the United States to identify initiatives that benefit America's working families, businesses and economy. These discussions will help inform the national Summit, which will build momentum around key policy goals and best practices to help both workers and businesses succeed.

The forums will convene businesses, academics, labor leaders, state and local elected officials, tribal leaders, advocates, media, and workers to discuss issues facing the entire spectrum of working families – from young people just starting their work lives, to low-wage workers, to corporate executives; from parents caring for children to adults caring for their aging parents. Addressing these issues isn't just the right thing to do for workers – it's critical to our future competitiveness in the global economy. Removing the barriers that keep our best talent from participating fully in our workforce is key to ensuring that all American businesses can compete in the 21st century.

The White House Summit on Working Families will explore how all sectors can work together on key issues including workplace flexibility and paid leave, equal pay, workplace diversity, career advancement, access to non-traditional and STEM jobs, worker retention and promotion, opportunities for low-wage workers, elder care, childcare, and early childhood education. And it will lift up promising and best practices of leading companies and develop solutions for bringing such practices to scale, across industries and for all types of workers.

The U.S. Department of Labor invites you to register to attend and receive updates for The San Francisco Forum for the White House Summit on Working Families on May 27th.

National Funding

Support for HIV/AIDS Initiatives in North and South America

Elton John AIDS Foundation

The Elton John AIDS Foundation supports innovative HIV prevention programs, efforts to eliminate stigma associated with HIV/AIDS, and direct services for people living with HIV/

AIDS. Through the 2014 general Request for Proposals, the Foundation will provide grants of up to $75,000 to nonprofit organizations located in the U.S., Canada, the Caribbean, and Latin America. The grantmaking priorities include improving health outcomes and advancing equal rights for Black Americans, sexual health and rights of adolescents and young adults, syringe access and harm reduction, health and rights of people who are or were recently incarcerated, and access to HIV treatment. For 2014, the Foundation will also provide support through the LGBTQ Community Initiative for innovative programs working to confront the HIV/AIDS crisis facing the LGBTQ communities. Organizations may request grants of up to $75,000 for local, state, or regional work, or up to $300,000 for work in multiple locations or at a national scale. Online letters of inquiry for both grant programs are due June 12, 2014. Visit the Foundation's website to learn more about the 2014 grant opportunities.

Anti-Bullying Programs Funded

The Ben Cohen StandUp Foundation

The Ben Cohen StandUp Foundation is dedicated to raising awareness of the long-term, damaging effects of bullying and to supporting those doing real-world work to stop it. The Foundation provides grants to nonprofit organizations throughout the United States that help stop bullying, help those hurt by bullying, and help increase equality and diversity in sports. The Foundation generally prefers to make grants of $10,000 or less. The application deadlines for the 2014 grant program are June 30 and November 30. (Grants are also provided to charitable organizations in the United Kingdom through a separate application process.) Visit the Foundation's website to download the application guidelines and form.

Grants Promote Public Transportation Advocacy

American Public Transportation Association: Local Coalition Grant Program

The American Public Transportation Association (APTA) and its members and staff work to ensure that public transportation is available and accessible for all Americans in communities across the country. APTA's Local Coalition Grant Program supports projects that focus on grassroots advocacy efforts that can help achieve specific state and local public transportation goals. Funded activities could include initiatives to support public transportation in economically challenging times, programs in partnership with local Chambers of Commerce or other business organizations that support public transportation and community mobility, efforts to educate decision-makers about policies favorable to public transportation, etc. Any local transit coalition is eligible, provided it has the support of the local APTA transit system member(s) and is a member of the National Alliance for Public Transportation Advocates. The application deadline is June 27, 2014. Visit the APTA website to review the grant guidelines.

Mental Health Projects in Underserved Communities Supported

American Psychiatric Foundation: Helping Hands Grant Program

The American Psychiatric Foundation is dedicated to advancing public understanding of mental illnesses. The Foundation's Helping Hands Grant Program was established to encourage medical students to participate in community service activities, to raise awareness of mental illness and the importance of early recognition of illness, and to build medical students' interest in psychiatry and working in underserved communities. The program provides grants of up to $5,000 to medical schools for mental health and substance use disorder projects that are created and managed by medical students, particularly in underserved minority communities. Funded projects can be conducted in partnership with community agencies or in conjunction with ongoing medical school outreach activities. The application deadline is June 13, 2014. Application guidelines and forms are available on the Foundation's website.

Regional Funding

Funds for Health Reform and Economic Justice in the DC Region

Consumer Health Foundation

The mission of the Consumer Health Foundation is to advocate for health and racial equity through programs and investments that advance the health and well-being of low-income communities and communities of color in the District of Columbia, Montgomery and Prince George's counties in Maryland, and northern Virginia. The Foundation's grantmaking program focuses on the following two areas: Advocacy for Health Reform and Advocacy for Economic Justice. In addition to core advocacy funding, the Foundation also provides selected grants to organizations that address community wealth building and racial equity. The final application deadline for 2014 is July 7. Visit the Foundation's website to download the grantmaking guidelines.

Grants Promote Clean Energy and Land Preservation in Illinois

Illinois Clean Energy Community Foundation

The Illinois Clean Energy Community Foundation invests in clean energy development and land preservation efforts by working with communities and citizens to improve environmental quality in Illinois. The Foundation supports projects in the following core program areas: improving energy efficiency, developing renewable energy resources, and preserving and enhancing natural areas and wildlife habitats throughout the state. Nonprofit organizations and government agencies are eligible to apply. The upcoming application deadline for most of the Foundation's grant programs is July 15, 2014. Visit the Foundation's website to learn more about the core program areas and application procedures.

Support for Jobs Programs for Floridians with Disabilities

The Able Trust

The Able Trust is a key leader in providing Floridians with disabilities opportunities for successful employment. Grants are awarded for a wide range of projects, including on-the-job coaching, supported employment, job skills-training, job development, employer outreach, ADA facility compliance, skills evaluation, and programs leading to employment. The Trust offers the following grant opportunities: The General Support for Employment Placement Programs category assists existing programs that facilitate employment for participating individuals with disabilities. Awards in this category range up to $65,000 for a one-year grant period. The application deadline is July 5, 2014. The Strategic Employment Placement Initiatives category helps nonprofit organizations create employment opportunities for individuals with disabilities. Awards in this category range up to $250,000 and cover a two- or three-year grant period. The application deadline is September 5, 2014. Visit the Trust's website to learn more about the application procedure for both programs.

Free Clinics in Michigan Funded

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan: Strengthening the Safety Net

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan offers Strengthening the Safety Net grants to promote the health and stability of Michigan through healthier workers, stronger families, engaged communities, and overall cost savings to the health care system. Free clinics that provide health care services (medical, dental, mental health, or vision care) and help their patients enroll in health coverage may apply for grants of up to $15,000. Funds may be used to support ongoing operations as well as patient navigation and enrollment services. Eligible free clinics must provide both clinical services and enrollment assistance, must have a volunteer program, and must engage board of directors in quality assurance. The application deadline is June 16, 2014. Visit the Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan website to download the request for applications.

Amongst the untrained eye, I could understand why some may not know the difference between the two medicines sage and sagebrush our Paiute Nation uses for different purposes. While I was in the hospital, it was sage that helped me breath 20% better after surgery. The nurse was amazed when she seen me grab it from my pocket and put it in my nose so I could breath. She asked why did I do that, I said so I could breath better which is why I am able to answer you. She called it practicing medicine, I said well we have been practicing it since before western contact, she said well it does work..

I sure do pay more attention to where it is now than ever before, plus the inherit right to use for healing purposes.
