Two Firefighter names to be added during Nevada Fallen Firefighters' Memorial Ceremony October 11, 2014 at 10:00 a.m. (Mills Park)

During the Nevada Firefighters' Memorial on Saturday, October 11, 2014, at 10 a.m. in Carson City, plaques bearing the names of Las Vegas Fire & Rescue Engineer John T. Delucchi and Hungry Valley VFD Assistant Chief Donovan Garcia, Jr., will be added to those of other Nevada firefighters who have lost their lives in the line of duty.

The community is welcome to attend and honor the memory of these two firefighters and to reassure their loved ones they will not be forgotten. The formal ceremony will be held at the Nevada Firefighters' Memorial in Mills Park (Carson City). The ceremony will conclude the weeklong observance of National Fire Prevention Week in Nevada. Honor Guard members will lead a combined fire service/honor guard during the ceremony and will conduct the memorial bell ceremony.

Grants

July 1, 2015 Veterans Cemetery Grants

This U.S. Dept. of Veterans Affairs program assists in providing gravesites for Veterans in those areas where VA's national cemeteries cannot fully satisfy their burial needs. Grants may be used to establish, expand or improve Veterans cemeteries. ELIGIBILITY: States, federally recognized tribal government, or U.S. territories.

Open Indian Land Tenure Foundation Grants

Tribal, local and state governments, and 501c3 nonprofit organizations, including educational institutions are eligible. The Foundation is devoted to serving Indian nations and Indian people in the recovery and control of their rightful homelands. Programs and initiatives are focused on education, cultural awareness, economic opportunity and legal reform. For more info., visit <http://www.iltf.org/grants>

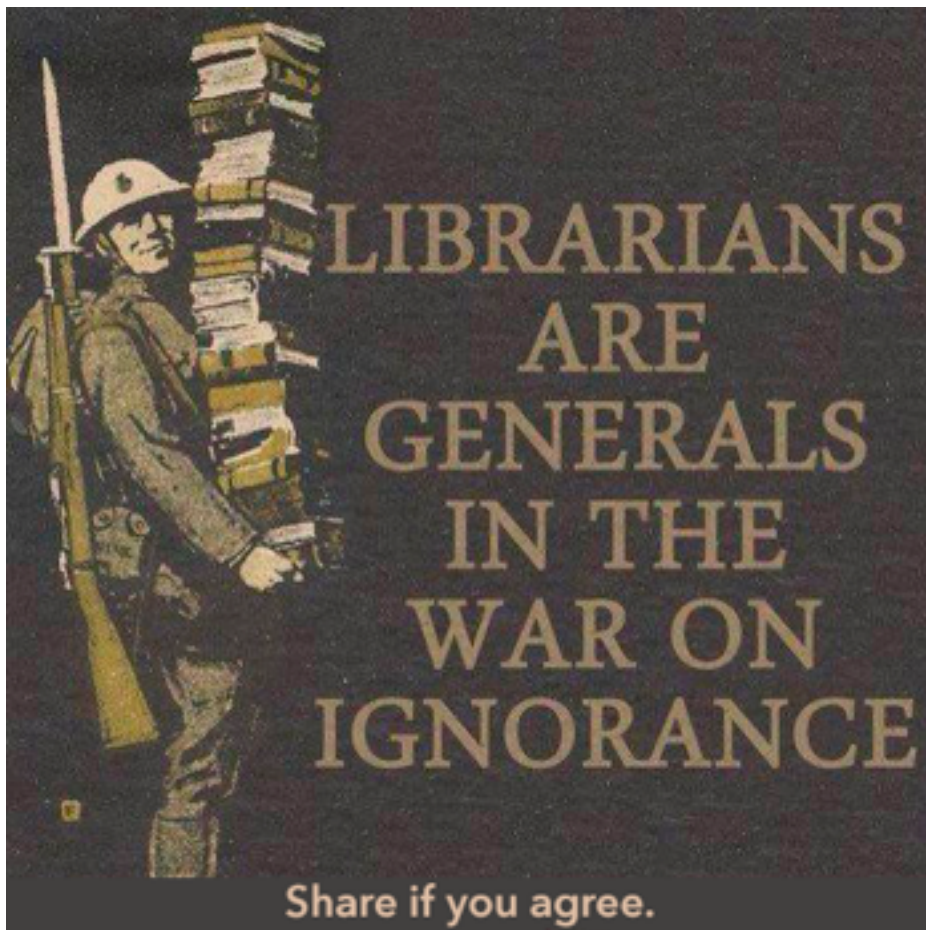

Open Tribal Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Coalitions Program

Grants are available for the development and operation of tribal domestic violence and sexual assault coalitions in Indian country. This program assists nonprofit organizations and individuals or groups of individuals to build Indian women's leadership and capacity in tribal communities to advocate for systemic change that will enhance the safety of women in an Indian Tribe. Tribal Coalition nonprofit organizations have accomplished this through technical assistance, expanding the capacity of the tribal coalitions, developing or enhancing appropriate standards for tribal governments, tribal nonprofits organizations, tribal organizations, victim services and victim service providers to increase the understanding of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. For more info., visit <http://www.ovw.usdoj.gov/open-solicitations.htm>

Open Emergency Community Water Assistance Grants (USDA-RD)

Program helps eligible rural communities recover from or prepare for emergencies that result in a decline in capacity to provide safe, reliable drinking water for households and businesses. Federally recognized Tribal lands and colonias are also eligible. Privately owned wells are not eligible. • Up to $150,000 for repairs to breaks or leaks in existing water distribution lines, & related maintenance. • Up to $500,000 for construction of a new water source, intake &/or treatment facility or waterline extensions. For more details, visit <http://www.rurdev.usda.gov/UWP-ecwag.htm>

Open Indian Loan Guaranty, Insurance, and Interest Subsidy Program (DOI)

This program assists in obtaining financing from private sources to promote business development initiatives that contribute to the economy of the reservation or service area.

Qualifications for this program:

- ☒ An individually enrolled member of a Federally recognized American Indian tribe or Alaska Native group
- ☒ Corporation with no less than 51% ownership by Federally recognized American Indians or Alaska Natives

☒ A Federally recognized American Indian Tribe or Alaska Native group.

International Economic Development Council 2014 Annual Conference

Steering towards the future with IEDC: convergence, connectivity, and creativity!

Representing the spirit of the modern-day pioneer, the International Economic Development Council's 2014 Annual Conference will explore how communities around the world are meeting fresh challenges and transforming their economies for the future. With over 1,400 projected attendees, this event is essential for economic developers at all stages in their careers and at all levels within the profession. Expected participants include leaders from regional, state, county, and city EDOs; chambers of commerce and other business support organizations; community and neighborhood development organizations; technology development agencies; utility companies; educational institutions; consulting practices; redevelopment authorities; and state, local, and federal government offices. Visit our website to learn more!

2014 Connect Nevada Broadband Workshops

On September 15 and 17, Connect Nevada held two broadband planning workshops to help create a master broadband plan for the state. These workshops, held in Las Vegas and Reno, featured speakers and discussions about the future of broadband in Nevada.

More than 70 people from public and private sectors participated.

Stakeholders in southern and northern Nevada discussed sector and geographic issues and challenges preventing broadband availability, adoption, and usage.

We will be having the 11th annual Student World Water Forum (SWWF) at the University of Nevada Reno on November 20-21, 2014 in the Great Room of the Joe Crowley Student Union. The SWWF is a student-organized event that will feature oral presentations from UNR students on water-related issues. In addition to the student presentations, the Forum will feature a keynote presentation by Dr. John Shurts of the Northwest Power and Conservation Council entitled "Rethinking the Columbia River Treaty: will we get the future right this time?" on Friday, November 21 at 4 pm in the Redfield Auditorium of the Davidson Math and Science Center at UNR.

We have two requests of you: 1) please send the conference website (<http://www.cabnr.unr.edu/swwf><<http://www.cabnr.unr.edu/swwf>>) to any interested parties who might be interested in participating in this event; and 2) please consider participating in the event as an evaluator of student presentations. A key part of the learning experience for the students will be the opportunity to receive constructive feedback on their presentation skills from faculty and water professionals. We are looking for evaluators who will review and provide basic critiques of student presentations at one of the conference sessions (i.e., you will not be asked to review the technical content, and you do not have to attend the entire event - sessions are typically about 1 to 1.5 hours long).

If you are interested in being an evaluator, please contact me at lsaito@cabnr.unr.edu and indicate your availability to evaluate one session on November 20 or 21. We expect sessions to run throughout the day on Thursday November 20 and through 3 p.m. on Friday November 21. We hope to let evaluators know when they have been scheduled by the end of October. For more information or questions, please contact me or visit the conference website at <http://www.cabnr.unr.edu/swwf>.

Leaders Understand That Activity Is Not Necessarily Accomplishment

When we are busy, we naturally believe we are achieving. To be effective, leaders must order their lives according to these three questions:

1. What is required?

If you're doing something that's not necessary, eliminate it. If not required of you personally, delegate it.

2. What gives the greatest return?

Spend your time working in areas of your greatest strength: get out of your comfort zone, but stay in your strength zone.

3. What brings the greatest reward?

Related to personal satisfaction, life is too short to do things you do not love. Do what you love.

Successful people live according to the Law of Priorities. Successful leaders help their organization, department or team live according to the Law of Priorities. As the leader, have you taken responsibility for prioritizing and thinking ahead for your area of responsibility? Have you carved out specific time on a regular basis to revisit priorities for that area?

As a leader, it's not enough for you to be successful. You need to help your people be successful. John Maxwell L2 seminars

Second Round Promise Zones Designation

The Obama Administration invites a new round of eligible applicants to apply for a Promise Zones designation. All communities can apply that meet the eligibility criteria, and demonstrate high need, a strong local commitment and a compelling strategy. HUD intends to designate six urban communities and USDA intends to designate at least one rural and at least one tribal community.

The deadline for submitting Promise Zones applications is November 21, 2014 at 5 p.m. EST. Application materials are available at <http://www.hud.gov/promisezones>.

Native American Heritage Commission Public Meeting To Hear Comments On NAHC Consultation Policy California Native American Heritage Commission

Notice of Public Hearing/Workshop on Proposed Regulations

Re: Discovery, Disposition and Treatment of Native American Human Remains and Associated Grave Goods

(Public Resources Code Section 5097.94, subdivisions (k) and (l); Section 5097.98)

Cache Creek Casino Napa/Sonoma Room, 5thFloor 14455 Highway 16 Brooks, CA 95606
October 16, 2014 1:00 pm to 4:00 pm

Pursuant to California Government Code section 11346.45, the California Native American Heritage Commission (NAHC) will hold a pre-notice public discussion to gather information concerning the adoption of proposed regulations to be added to Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations as follows:

1) Title 14, (proposed) Division 17, Native American Heritage Commission. The NAHC is considering adopting regulations to implement Public Resources Code section 5097.98 and would like to have public discussion about the following issues and any others relevant to Public Resources Code section 5097.98:

- i. Whether only California Native American Tribes, as opposed to individuals, should be designated as Most Likely Descendants (MLD);
- ii. What data should be used to determine tribal territories;
- iii. What criteria and procedures should be considered by the NAHC in making an MLD designation when tribal territories overlap, including, but not limited to, rotation among tribes;
- iv. What process and grounds should be used for removing an MLD from a project;
- v. What process and grounds should be used for removing an MLD from the MLD list;
- vi. What process should be followed by the NAHC to designate a second MLD when an MLD cannot serve, will not serve, or is removed from a project;
- vii. Whether there should be a definition of "appropriate dignity";
- viii. Whether there should be guidelines for serving as an MLD;
- ix. Whether an MLD should serve for an entire project, even if the project includes another tribe's cultural area;
- x. How to maintain the confidentiality of the location of discovered Native American remains;
- xi. Whether there should be a definition of "placed or buried with" for purposes of determining what are associated grave goods under subdivision (d)(2) of Public Resources Code section 5097.98;
- xii. What measures should be used to enforce subdivision (e) of Public Resources Code section

5097.98 when the landowner reinters Native American remains and items associated and buried with remains; and xiii. Whether there should be guidelines for the completion of a report by the MLD, with recording of the burial site with CHRIS, on the property deed, or possible submission to the NAHC for inclusion in the Sacred Lands File.

2) Title 14, (proposed) Division 17, Native American Heritage Commission. The NAHC is considering adopting regulations to create a formal mediation process to implement Public Resources Code section 5097.94 (k).

3) Title 14, (proposed) Division 17, Native American Heritage Commission. The NAHC is considering adopting regulations to create a model pre-burial agreement to implement Public Resources Code section 5097.94, subdivisions (k) and (l).

Environmental Review Training

HUD's Eastern Woodlands Office of Native American Programs in collaboration with the Seminole Tribe of Florida Native Learning Center invites you to attend the Environmental Review Training instructed by Eugene Goldfarb, University of Illinois - Chicago/Great Lakes Environmental Planning, Inc. in Green Bay, Wisconsin on November 4 - 6, 2014.

Environmental review allows Tribal government and other stakeholders to identify and evaluate alternative sites and designs that can mitigate adverse impacts and/or lower long-term maintenance costs. All federal projects require environmental assessment responsibilities under National Environmental Protection Act (NEPA), and many Tribal governments routinely include environmental considerations in their local decision making process.

This course uses the HUD (24 CFR 58) environmental process that delegates NEPA & other environmental authorities to the Tribes as a framework for providing insights into issue identification and analysis pointed to consideration of alternatives. The textbook with companion DVD will use interactive exercises and simulation. Case oriented exercises will provide participants with a simulated hands-on experience as well as provide opportunities for Q & A and peer-to-peer education.

Topics include: NEPA Overview, Procedural Mechanics, HUD Monitoring, Programmatic Reviews, Floodplain & Wetlands, Getting Started, Noise, FEMA Flood Insurance Program, Site Contamination & Brownfield Redevelopment, Energy, Internet Resources for Environmental Review, HUD Environmental Reporting On Line System, Explosive & Flammable Hazards, Clear Zones, Other Applicable Authorities including Coastal Zones, Sole Source, Aquifers, Scenic Rivers, Air, & Farmland, Sustainable Storm Water Management, Bio-diversity/Endangered Species, Historic Preservation & Archaeological Resources, Environmental Justice, Public Health & Sustainable Communities, Greening Affordable Housing
