Scholarship Program List | American Indian College Fund

Scholarships available for Native American College Students provided by the American Indian College Fund. www.collegefund.org

Fund for a Just Society

Guidelines

Grants are made to non-Unitarian Universalist groups in the U.S. and Canada that:

- use community organizing to bring about systemic change leading to a more just society;
- mobilize those who have been disenfranchised and excluded from resources, power and the right to self-determination; and
- have an active focused campaign to create systemic change.

Funding Priorities

<http://www.uufunding.org/fund-for-a-just-society.html>

Priority is given to active, specific campaigns to create change in the economic, social, and political structures that affect their lives. We expect the organization's infrastructure, including leadership, membership and systems of accountability to be developed by the time of the application. We welcome projects that are less likely to receive conventional funding because of the innovative or challenging nature of the work or the economic and social status of the constituency. Please be concrete; spell out your plans. Don't say you will "empower people," tell us what actions you will take to create systematic change. See Sample Grants.

Parabola Magazine

“When the Lakota leader Sitting Bull was asked by a white reporter why his people loved and respected him, Sitting Bull replied by asking if it was not true that among white people a man is respected because he has many horses, many houses? When the reporter replied that was indeed true, Sitting Bull then said that his people respected him because he kept nothing for himself.”

—Joseph Bruchac: “Sacred Giving; Sacred Receiving,” PARABOLA, Summer 2011. This issue is available here> <http://bit.ly/1OJrOAK>

When you meet a clean drug addict
You meet a hero.
Their mortal enemy slumbers within them;
They can never outrun their disability.
They make their way through a world of drug abuse,
In an environment that does not understand them.
Society, puffed up with shameful ignorance,
Looks on them with contempt,
As if they were a second-class citizen
Because they dare to swim against the stream of drugs
But you must know:
No better people are made than this.
— Friedrich von Bodelschwingh (1831-1910).
