NRS 122.160 Marriages between Indians performed by tribal custom on reservation or in colony: Validity; certificate of declaration.

1. Marriages between Indians performed in accordance with tribal customs within closed Indian reservations and Indian colonies have the same validity as marriages performed in any other manner provided for by the laws of this State, if there is recorded or filed in the county in which the marriage takes place, within 30 days after the performance of the tribal marriage, a certificate declaring the marriage to have been performed.

2. The certificate of declaration required to be recorded or filed by subsection 1 must include the names of the persons married, their ages, tribe, and place and date of marriage. The certificate must be signed by an official of the tribe, reservation or colony.

3. The certificate must be:

(a) If the board of county commissioners has adopted an ordinance pursuant to NRS 246.100, filed with the county clerk of the county in which the marriage was performed and filed by the county clerk without charge.

(b) If the board of county commissioners has not adopted an ordinance pursuant to NRS 246.100, recorded with the county recorder of the county in which the marriage was performed and recorded by the county recorder without charge.

NRS 122.170 Marriages between Indians consummated in accordance with tribal customs valid: Certificate of marriage; contents; recording.

1. Marriages between Indians heretofore or hereafter consummated in accordance with tribal custom have the same validity as marriages performed in any other manner provided for by the laws of the State of Nevada.

2. A certificate of any such marriage may be signed by:

(a) An official of the tribe of which at least one of the parties is a member;

(b) An official of the reservation or colony in or upon which at least one of the parties shall at the time reside; or

(c) The superintendent of an Indian agency legally established in this State by the United States.

3. The certificate may be:

(a) If the board of county commissioners has adopted an ordinance pursuant to NRS 246.100, filed in the office of the county clerk of the county where such marriage took place, and within 30 days thereafter; or

(b) If the board of county commissioners has not adopted an ordinance pursuant to NRS 246.100, recorded in the office of the recorder of the county where such marriage took place, and within 30 days thereafter,

↪ and such certificate or a certified copy thereof is prima facie evidence of the facts therein recited.

4. The certificate must give the names of the parties married, their ages, tribe, and the place and date of the marriage, and must show the official status of the person signing the same.

5. Any certificate, affidavit or other type of proof recognized by the United States, or any department thereof, as proof of a valid tribal marriage, regardless of when or where the tribal marriage was entered into, is proof of the validity of the tribal marriage in the State of Nevada.

Institutional Overview

Gathers and catalogs complete and accurate ethnohistorical data to assist educational efforts below the graduate level, as well as acquaint scholars of various disciplines with archival resources. Provides the research tools and finding aids to the written record that began with the arrival of the Spanish explorers in the 1530s. Includes copies of the diaries of explorers, and reports of missionaries and soldiers, from the first written accounts of contact with indigenous peoples in the sixteenth century to the Mexican declaration of independence from Spain in 1821.

Locales include Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, and northern Mexico; all of what was northern New Spain.

DRSW Master Bibliography and Indexes are a computerized guide to several collections of Spanish colonial documents. The guide, compiled and analyzed from microfilm copies of documents, indexes, persons, places, ethnic groups, and keywords which are cross-referenced to a precise document and the location of the original. Although the database is not on-line and does not include transcriptions or translations of the documents, it is a finding aid or research tool to allow the investigator to know which documents and/or archives may have pertinent documents. Most of these documents are on microfilm collections held in major research libraries.

See: Thomas C. Barnes, Thomas H. Naylor, and Charles W. Polzer, Northern New Spain: A Research Guide (Tucson: University of Arizona Press, c1981).

Archival collections covered by the database include:

- Provincias Internas, Archivo General de la Nacion, Mexico City, Mexico
- Spanish Archives of New Mexico, Series II, Santa Fe, Mexico
- Bexar Archives (to 1790), University of Texas, Austin, Texas
- Archivo de Parral, Parral, Chihuahua

Microfilm: 1,800 reels

Slides: 3,000 items
