 In honor and recognition, November is Native American Heritage Month. **

(Read the White House Presidential Proclamation at https://www.whitehouse.gov/the-press-office/2015/10/30/

On Dec. 14, 1915, Red Fox James, a Blackfeet Indian, presented at the White House endorsements from 24 state governments for a day to honor Indians. But the federal government didn't take action until 1983, when President Ronald Reagan proclaimed May 13 as American Indian Day. In 1990, President George H.W. Bush signed a joint congressional resolution designating November as National American Indian Heritage Month. It is now called National Native American Heritage Month.

Nevada SBA Seeks Nominations for 2016 Small Business Awards

Las Vegas -The Nevada District Office of the U.S. Small Business Administration announced today it is actively seeking nominations for its signature statewide 2016 Small Business Awards. The SBA will recognize honorees in the following categories at a premier event on May 4, 2016 at the Gold Coast Hotel/Casino, sponsored by Vegas PBS.

- Nevada Small Business Person of the Year
- Nevada Small Business Exporter of the Year
- Nevada Young Entrepreneur of the Year (under 30 by 6/1/16)
- Nevada Microenterprise Person of the Year (5 employees or fewer)
- Nevada Minority Owned Business of the Year
- Nevada Woman Owned Business of the Year
- Nevada Family Owned Business of the Year
- Nevada Veteran Owned Business of the Year
- Nevada Rural Business of the Year
- Entrepreneurial Spirit Award

“With the economic recovery in full swing, inspiring success stories continue to emerge from the small business community,” says Bob Holguin, SBA’s Nevada District Director.

“Our exceptional small businesses deserve public recognition. Individuals, fellow business owners, bankers, chambers of commerce and other community organizations are strongly encouraged to nominate individuals deserving of these awards,” concluded Holguin.

Individuals may not be nominated for more than one SBW 2016 award category. Those who have received a small business award in the past five years are not eligible.

The deadline for submitting nominations is Tuesday, December 1, 2015. A faxable, easy one-page nomination contact form and eligibility guidelines are available on Nevada SBA’s website, www.sba.gov/nv or via e-mail (no calls please) to christina.stace@sba.gov.

Nominations should be faxed to: 202-481-0785. Information: 702-388-6652. Nominees will be offered assistance in preparing a package appropriate for judging.

“The new museology, given ink in the 1980’s is that people, not things are the museum. The new museum is defined by socially relevant objectives that works toward making a population aware of its identity.....

Totally of images of self, past, present and future and in one which the community through and by the community.....

People’s museography.....a body of teachings and practices applied by a population to the conservation and enhancement, in a museum or otherwise, of the collective heritage of the community and its territory.” --Rene Rivard

BCBSMT Sponsorships support fundraisers and events for charities and non-charitable community, civic, or educational organizations that provide visibility for BCBSMT in Montana communities. Requests for both grants and sponsorships may be submitted throughout the year. Visit the company's website to learn more about the application guidelines and procedures.

Capacity Building Support for Conservation Organizations in New England

Jessie B. Cox Trust: Regional Conservation Partnership Innovation Grant Program

The Jessie B. Cox Trust is dedicated to improving the quality of life in the six New England states. The Trust's Regional Conservation Partnership (RCP) Innovation Grant Program helps RCPs address basic organizational challenges that limit their ability to grow as effective collaboratives and achieve significant conservation gains. Grants focus on encouraging RCPs to take the key steps important to advancing along the RCP continuum from "maturing" to fully "conserving." These key steps include developing or implementing conservation priority plans, strategic action plans, landowner outreach projects, and capital campaigns. Grants of up to $20,000 will be provided to increase the capacity of eligible RCPs to achieve effective and enduring conservation of ecologically significant lands. Applicants must be based in New England and also must be members of the RCP Network. The application deadline is February 1, 2016. Visit the Trust's website to learn more about the program.

Programs Enhancing Alaska Native Values Funded

Alaska Conservation Foundation: Alaska Native Fund

The purpose of the Alaska Native Fund, a program of the Alaska Conservation Foundation (ACF), is to advance Alaska Native priorities for protecting their land and sustaining their ways of life. The Fund's grantmaking priorities include the following: Climate Change, Food Security, Sustainable Economies, Energy, and Holistic Wellness. Alaska Native organizations and individuals that address one of these issues are eligible to apply. Grants range up to $20,000 for organizations and up to $10,000 for individuals. (The Fund will also provide grants of up to $5,000 for applicants implementing Youth Organizing strategies.) Letters of inquiry are due December 15, 2015. Visit ACF's website to learn more about the Fund's application guidelines.

Funds for Programs for Disadvantaged Youth in Indiana

Interactive Intelligence Foundation

The Interactive Intelligence Foundation is dedicated to fostering life improvements for at-risk youth. The majority of the Foundation's grants are provided to nonprofit organizations in Indiana, with the remaining grants provided to organizations in other locations in the U.S. and overseas where company employees live and work. Preference is given to STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) projects, with special emphasis on projects that promote technology education. Grants generally range from $5,000 to $20,000. The application deadline is December 6, 2015. Visit the Foundation's website to submit an online application.

Grants Promote Physician-Led Health Initiatives in Massachusetts

Massachusetts Medical Society and Alliance Charitable Foundation: Community Action and Care for the Medically Uninsured

The Massachusetts Medical Society and Alliance Charitable Foundation is dedicated to addressing issues that affect the health, benefit, and welfare of communities throughout Massachusetts. The Foundation's Community Action and Care for the Medically Uninsured program supports physician-led volunteer initiatives to provide free care to uninsured/underinsured patients and increased access to care for the medically underserved. The community health initiatives that are funded target crucial public health issues such as infectious disease, substance use, mental health, and relationship violence. Grants are provided to established organizations with proven track records of working with interdisciplinary groups that address healthcare issues and where strong physician involvement exists. Proposals for new projects are preferred over repeat requests. (A repeat application for funding should specifically document how the new project differs, if it does, from past requests.) Multi-year grants are possible for start-up programs. Letters of inquiry must be submitted by January 15, 2016. Selected organizations will be invited to submit full proposals, which will be due March 1, 2016. Visit the Foundation's website to download the application guidelines and forms.

Awards Recognize Teachers in West Virginia and Wyoming

Arch Coal Teacher Achievement Awards

The Arch Coal Teacher Achievement Awards program recognizes excellent K-12 teachers in West Virginia and Wyoming. Nominees must be active, full-time teachers with at least three years of experience, including vocational, special education, and Title I teachers. Awards of $3,500 are provided to each winning teacher. Teachers may be nominated by students, peers, and members of their community. The nomination deadline is January 4, 2016. Visit the Arch Coal website to access the nomination form.

Support for Libraries in Rural Texas

Tocker Foundation: Library Grants

The Tocker Foundation is dedicated to the support of rural libraries in Texas. The Foundation's Library Grants focus on extending public library services to individuals who, by reason of distance, residence, handicap, age, literacy level, or other disadvantage, are unable to receive the benefits of public library services. The Foundation provides grants to libraries that serve as community information referral centers as well as those that provide literacy programs for adults and school dropouts in cooperation with other organizations. An additional focus is on libraries that wish to extend access through the effective use of technology and the preservation of history through digitization. Public libraries in Texas serving populations of 12,000 or under are eligible to apply. The upcoming application deadline is January 15, 2016. Visit the Foundation's website to learn more about the Library Grants program.

National Funding.

Innovative Contemporary Art Exhibitions Funded

Emily Hall Tremain Foundation: Exhibition Award

The Emily Hall Tremain Foundation's Exhibition Award supports innovative art exhibitions throughout the United States that challenge convention through the exploration of critical ideas in contemporary art. The Exhibition Award includes the following five components: Core Exhibition and Publication, Touring Incentive, Support for Living Artists, Video Documentation, and Curatorial Development. The focus is on strong, thematic exhibitions that put the works of contemporary art or architecture in a new or unconventional aesthetic, historical, cultural, or social framework. Grants are provided for exhibitions at the beginning stage of their development in order to offer the curator the support needed to fully explore a concept and realize an exhibition. Established (five or more years old) nonprofit exhibition spaces, traditional galleries, and museums are eligible to apply. The application deadline is January 14, 2016. Visit the Foundation's website to review the guidelines and submit an online application.

Matching Grants Enhance the National Forest System

National Forest Foundation: Matching Awards Program

The National Forest Foundation was established by Congress to support the USDA Forest Service in its management of America's National Forests and Grasslands. The Foundation's Matching Awards Program (MAP) provides grants to nonprofit organizations, universities, and Native American tribes throughout the U.S. to engage in on-the-ground conservation and restoration projects that have an immediate, quantifiable impact on the National Forest System. Funded projects must address one of the following focus areas: The Outdoor Experiences category supports results-oriented, on-the-ground projects that improve the quality, condition, and care of outdoor experiences in National Forests. The Forest Health category supports results-oriented, on-the-ground, citizen-involved projects that maintain or restore forest resiliency. All grants require at least a one-to-one cash match through non-federal donations. MAP also requires projects to show a strong commitment to civic engagement and community involvement through the direct involvement of the public. The proposal deadlines for 2016 are January 14 and June 16. Visit the Foundation's website to learn more about each MAP focus area and to submit the required eligibility questionnaire.

Exceptional Child Care Teachers Recognized

Terri Lynne Lokoff/Children's TYLENOL National Child Care Teacher Awards

The Terri Lynne Lokoff/Children's TYLENOL National Child Care Teacher Awards acknowledge the critical role of child care teachers in providing quality early care and education. Child care teachers from all 50 states and the District of Columbia and on U.S. military bases and installations around the world are eligible to apply for these awards. Applicants must be full-time child care teachers employed in a home, group, or center-based program for a minimum of three years and meet other eligibility guidelines. As part of the application process, teachers are asked to design an enhancement project for the children in their classroom or home, illustrating the educational, social, and emotional benefits from the project. Fifty selected teachers will each receive a $1,000 grant; $500 to create the project and $500 for the teacher's personal use. Of the top ten recipients, one is selected to receive the Helene Marks Award, which includes an additional $1,000 grant. Applications must be postmarked by January 4, 2016. Visit the Foundation's website to download the application guidelines.

Support for Entrepreneurial Programs for Artists

Surdna Foundation: Artists and Economic Development

The Surdna Foundation seeks to foster just and sustainable communities throughout the United States. The Foundation's Thriving Cultures program is based on a belief that communities with robust arts and culture are more cohesive and prosperous, and benefit from the diversity of their residents. Through the Artists and Economic Development funding area, the Foundation supports efforts that provide artists with business training and financial resources that enable them to be, and create, valuable economic assets for their communities. The focus is on nonprofit organizations that operate business and entrepreneurship training programs for artists and cultural organizations, provide financing to artists and artist-centered enterprises, and offer arts and culture-based programs and services that directly engage and support the people who live and work in the area as a strategy for equitable economic development. Letters of inquiry are accepted throughout the year. Visit the Foundation's website to learn more about the Artists and Economic Development funding area.

Child-Centered Garden Programs Funded

KidsGardening.org: Youth Garden Grants

KidsGardening.org, a resource of the National Gardening Association (NGA), awards Youth Garden Grants to schools and community organizations throughout the United States with child-centered garden programs. Any nonprofit, school, or youth program planning a new garden program or expanding an established one that serves at least 15 youth between the ages of three and 18 is eligible to apply. Twenty programs will receive award packages valued at over $500. The selection of winners is based on demonstrated program impact and sustainability. The application deadline is December 1, 2015. Application guidelines and forms are available on the NGA website at KidsGardening.org.

Grants Promote Social Justice for LGBT Youth and Minorities

Arcus Foundation: U.S. Social Justice Program

The Arcus Foundation is a leading global foundation dedicated to the idea that people can live in harmony with one another and the natural world. The Foundation's U.S. Social Justice Program works at the intersection of sexual/gender justice, racial justice, and economic justice, investing primarily in youth, communities of color, and targeted faith communities, with special priority for youth of color, transgender populations, and work by and for affected communities. The Foundation provides grants in the following areas: leadership of young people and people of color to build a diverse network committed to sexual/gender justice; relevant message frames, national and grassroots messengers, and high-profile influencers targeted at youth, people of color, and faith communities; and advocacy efforts to increase social and economic protections affecting LGBT youth of color. U.S. nonprofit organizations may submit an online Initial Funding Concept form at any time. Visit the Foundation's website for more information.

Golf Programs for People with Disabilities Supported

National Alliance for Accessible Golf

Accessible Golf Program Grants, administered by the National Alliance for Accessible Golf and funded by the United States Golf Association, support nonprofit organizations, government agencies, and educational institutions in their efforts to make the game of golf more accessible to people with disabilities. Priority is given to inclusive programming – opportunities that allow participants with disabilities and participants without disabilities to learn and play the game side by side. Grants of up to $20,000 are provided to assist with core golf program costs such as adaptive golf clubs and bags, golf course access, and transportation of participants to and from programming. Requests may be submitted throughout the year. Visit the Alliance's website to download the program guidelines.

Support for Creative Food-Oriented Initiatives in Low-Income Communities

Kresge Foundation: Fresh, Local, and Equitable Initiative

The Kresge Foundation's new "Fresh, Local, and Equitable: Food as a Creative Platform for Neighborhood Revitalization" initiative will support food-oriented programs that contribute to economic revitalization, cultural expression, and health in low-income communities throughout the United States. Priority will be given to neighborhood-scale projects that have been developed with strong community engagement and leadership, prioritize equity, involve multiple sectors and disciplines, and demonstrate a high degree of readiness to implement a cross-sectoral vision of food-oriented development. The Foundation will award up to 20 planning grants of up to $75,000 each. Organizations and collaborations that lead food-oriented development programs in economically distressed urban neighborhoods are eligible to apply. Grant recipients will participate in a national learning network and have the opportunity to apply for implementation grants. The application deadline is January 15, 2016. Visit the Foundation's website to download the Request for Proposals.

Community Projects Mobilizing Volunteers Funded

NobleCause, a grant competition offered by NobleHour.com, is dedicated to inspiring quality volunteerism by encouraging community transformations and civic mindfulness. High schools, higher education institutions, and nonprofit organizations throughout the nation are invited to compete for grants to mobilize volunteers to address the greatest challenges facing their communities. Applicants are asked to identify a local issue to address, and to recruit and enrich the social responsibility of volunteers. The competition will provide 104 organizations with $6,500 grants; six organizations will receive $50,000 grants. The application deadline is December 6, 2015. Visit the NobleCause website to learn more about the competition and to submit an online application.

Grants Promote Wildlife Protection Worldwide

Disney Conservation Fund: Annual Conservation Grants

The Disney Conservation Fund's Annual Conservation Grants provide support for the study of wildlife, the protection of habitats, and community conservation and education. Grants of up to $25,000 are available for projects around the world. (Applying organizations must have U.S. nonprofit status; non-governmental organizations may apply in partnership with a U.S. organization.) Funded projects should clearly contribute to the conservation of endangered or threatened species and their habitats. Projects should also engage the surrounding communities through community-based education programs or support sustainable community development projects that assist communities in protecting nature. Preference is given to projects that target specific wildlife issues, including efforts to explore sustainable aquaculture, address sustainable seafood, or control illegal wildlife trade. Letters of inquiry are due by December 15, 2015; the deadline for invited proposals is March 4, 2016. Visit the Fund's website to download the FAQs and the letter of inquiry form.

Film Screening and Education Programs Supported

Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences: Academy Grants Program

The Academy Grants Program, an initiative of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, seeks to inspire imagination and connect the world through the medium of motion pictures. The program currently provides funding to nonprofit organizations and individuals worldwide in three areas: FilmWatch grants, ranging from $5,000 to $30,000, support curated screening programs at North America-based film festivals, film societies, and other film-related organizations. FilmCraft grants, ranging from $5,000 to $25,000, support high-quality educational programs that identify and empower future filmmakers from nontraditional backgrounds. Academy Film Scholars grants of $25,000 are awarded to previously published individuals who are pursuing significant new works of film scholarship. The application deadline for FilmWatch and FilmCraft grants is December 15, 2015. The application deadline for Academy Film Scholars grants is January 31, 2016. Visit the Academy's website to learn more about each grant program's guidelines and to submit an online application.

Federal Funding

The application deadline is December 15, 2015.

Program Helps Lower Energy Costs in Rural Communities

Department of Agriculture

The Assistance to High Energy Cost Rural Communities initiative provides support to assist power providers in lowering energy costs for families and individuals in areas with extremely high per-household energy costs. The grant funds may be used to acquire, construct, or improve energy generation, transmission, or distribution facilities. The application deadline is December 14, 2015.

Rivers run through one mountains bore into my body
and the geography of this country
begins forming in me
turning me into lakes, chasms, ravens
Earth for swing love
opening like a furrow filling me with a longing to live
to see it free, beautiful full of smiles
I want to explode with love.
