"To sew is to pray. Men don't understand this. They see the whole but they don't see the stitches. They don't see the speech of the creator in the work of the needle. We mend. We women turn things inside out and set things right. We salvage what we can of human garments and piece the rest into blankets. Sometimes our stitches stutter and slow. Only a woman's eyes can tell. Other times, the tension in the stitches might be too tight because of tears, but only we know what emotion went into the making. Only women can hear the prayer." ~ LOUISE ERDRICH, Four Souls

Inyo County Sesquicentennial added 2 new photos.

These photos from the Eastern California Museum have no date and are labeled Paiute Indian Village - Benton, Mono County. It is hard to see in the picture if this cradle board was intricately decorated, as so many of them were.

Gold King Mine Spill Investigation

The House Natural Resources Committee subpoenaed documents from two federal agencies that completed a technical evaluation of the Gold King mine accident that occurred last August. The subpoenas concern the reservations expressed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' peer review of the Interior Department's evaluation.

EPA Enforcement Priorities

Three of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's seven priorities for monitoring and enforcement in the next three years relate to water pollution. The priority areas are:

- Urban sewage and stormwater
- Animal waste
- Industrial pollution

Being named a priority area, however, does not mean high-level action. The EPA has designated animal waste a national priority since 2011, yet the number of federal inspections and enforcement actions dropped by more than half.

Studies and Reports

Toxic Algae Detected in Southeastern U.S.

U.S. Geological researchers sampled 75 streams in the Southeast for microcystin, an algal toxin. They found evidence of the toxin in 39 percent of the streams, though the median concentration was more than 30 times lower than human health guidelines set by the World Health Organization. The study is the first of several USGS regional studies on the prevalence of microcystin in streams.

EPA Fracking Report

The EPA's science advisory board released a second draft of its review of the agency's hydraulic fracturing report. The board continues to be at odds with the EPA's claim of no "widespread, systematic impacts" on drinking water. The panel recommends more attention on local water stress as a result of hydraulic fracturing.

Budget Hearings

Administrators and number crunchers report — it's budget season on Capitol Hill. Committees will hold hearings with cabinet members over the next few weeks to discuss spending goals. One of the first water-related hearing is February 23, when the Senate Energy Committee reflects on the Interior Department budget.

Meanwhile, Army Corps leaders will appear before the House Transportation Committee on February 24 to address how the Corps evaluates its water resources projects and to get updates on ongoing studies.

Glen Canyon Dam Management

The Department of Interior will hold public meetings in Arizona this week to discuss changes in how Glen Canyon Dam, on the Colorado River, is managed. The department released a draft environmental review in January, which is open for public comment until April 7.

The draft has provisions for maintaining hydropower production and improving habitat for the endangered humpback chub. It has provisions for monthly water releases as well as for high-volume releases that will rebuild sandbars in the Grand Canyon, downstream.

American Indian Dog: It's not a wolf, and it's not a coyote; it's an American Indian dog.

These working companion animals were almost lost to history after our American Indians were segregated onto reservations, and often left without the resources necessary to maintain the ancient breed. There is now growing interest in restoring the old lines of these beautiful canines.

NATIONAL TRIBAL AIR ASSOCIATION INDOOR AIR QUALITY NEEDS ASSESSMENT FOR INDIAN COUNTRY.

Survey Responses Requested By Feb. 28, 2016. - You and your Tribal community can help provide the facts needed to make the case to improve funding for IAQ in Tribal housing by filling out the NTAA's Indoor Air Quality Needs Assessment here.

Live link: <http://goo.gl/forms/awULvp2bSE>

The National Tribal Air Association is a leading voice for Tribal air quality issues, programs, and policies. The National Tribal Air Association (NTAA) is working to provide Tribes and the Federal Government with a national snapshot of Tribal housing Indoor Air Quality (IAQ) needs in order to demonstrate the need for increased funding to improve IAQ in Tribal housing. Please complete the Needs Assessment by Feb. 28, 2016, and share this Needs Assessment with colleagues and others in your Tribe.

NTAA will be compiling the results of this needs assessment into a final report to be released at the 2016 National Tribal Forum on Air Quality to be held in New York in May, 2016. NTAA hopes this needs assessment will help Tribal and Federal governmental leaders understand the extent of IAQ needs in Tribal communities. NTAA will be highlighting the information collected to call for more funding for Tribal housing. For more information on the NTAA IAQ work group that created this needs assessment, please visit NTAA's website here. For more info, contact Andy Bessler, Project Director, National Tribal Air Association, at 928-523-0526 or via e-mail at andy.bessler@nau.edu, or visit www.ntaatribalair.org

NEVADA MIGHT GET HUGE INVESTMENT FROM BARRICK GOLD

Nevada's largest mining company is eyeing plans to invest big in its operations. Barrick Gold Corp. said Monday that it could spend $2.1 billion through 2020 expanding gold mines in Nevada and Peru, with about $1.4 billion of the investments set for the Silver State.
