Canada Human Rights Decision Is a Game Changer for First Nations

Pamela D. Palmater, teleSUR: The Canadian Human Rights Tribunal decided in favor of First Nations and issued a decision that not only highlighted the blatant discrimination faced by Indigenous children and families, but also exposed the Canadian government's shameful conduct.

Institute of American Indian Arts

Are you a museum, gallery, or other art-related professional looking to move up to the next level in your career? IAIA is one of the few schools that offer an on-line certificate in museum studies. Also available are certificates in Native American art history and business and entrepreneurship.

Don't just make art, make a living with art. For more information on IAIA classes, please contact the IAIA Office of Admissions and Recruitment by phone at 800.804.6422, or via e-mail at admissions@iaia.edu.

Offering undergraduate degrees in Studio Arts, Cinematic Arts and Technology, Creative Writing, Museum Studies, and Indigenous Liberal Studies, and graduate degrees in Creative Writing, IAIA has graduated more than 3,800 students, and welcomes students from the 567 federally-recognized tribes and non-Native Americans looking to obtain a world-class arts education. In any given year, as many as 112 tribes are represented on campus, with about 20 percent of its student body non-Native American, adding to the vibrant cultural mix of IAIA's diverse and welcoming students, faculty and staff.

For over 50 years, the Institute of American Indian Arts has played a key role in the direction and shape of Native expression. With an internationally acclaimed college, museum, and tribal support resource through the IAIA Land Grant Programs, IAIA is dedicated to the study and advancement of Native arts and cultures and is committed to student achievement and the preservation and progress of their communities. IAIA is accredited by both the Higher Learning Commission and the National Association of Schools of Art & Design.

TO HELP ENTREPRENEURS GROW AND SUCCEED

Now available in 51 Cities and Communities Across the United States

WASHINGTON – The U.S. Small Business Administration's Emerging Leaders executive-level training series is launching in 51 cities and communities across the country this year.

The Emerging Leaders training focuses on small, poised-for-growth companies with potential for job creation. The seven-month intensive, executive entrepreneurship education series includes approximately 100 hours of classroom time per participant and provides the opportunity for small business owners to work with experienced mentors, attend workshops and develop connections with their peers, city leaders and financial communities.

"The SBA's expansion of Emerging Leaders last year to over 20 new locations made this invaluable training accessible to more entrepreneurs than ever before," said SBA Administrator Maria Contreras-Sweet. "The training, mentorship and resources that these small business owners receive help them take their enterprises to the next level, spurring business growth, job creation and stronger communities."

"The initiative has trained more than 3,000 promising small business owners in underserved communities since its inception in 2008, and its impact continues to expand, Contreras-Sweet continued."

There are three new locations joining the initiative for the first time – Sacramento, Calif., Montpelier, Vt., and Concord, N.H. The expansion means the successful training initiative will now be available to entrepreneurs in a total of 51 cities across the United States.

The Emerging Leaders initiative has been a catalyst for expanding opportunities for underserved communities. Graduates have reported that nearly 70 percent achieved revenue growth and over 80 percent created new jobs or retained all existing jobs. Graduates have secured federal, state, local and tribal contract awards over $700 million.

Local recruitment for the 2016 training cycle is underway at selected SBA district offices, and classes are scheduled to begin in April. Information on how interested small business owners can apply and eligibility criteria can be found at www.sba.gov/emergingleaders.

The hosting locations for the 2016 Emerging Leaders initiative classes are as follows:

Albuquerque, N.M.	Miami, Fla.
Atlanta, Ga.	Milwaukee, Wis.

Check out our new Nevada Correspondence section, this month adding dispatches from Elko and South Lake Tahoe to the mix. Here it is. We're presently seeking Correspondents in Reno, Winnemucca, Tonopah and Fallon (we have 3 in Las Vegas!) who can see things from a visitor's point of view. You can review our Fact Sheet/Sign-up form here if you're an aware observer, a capable writer, and love Nevada for all the right reasons (and maybe some of the not-quite-right ones too), if you can recognize and communicate what's interesting, and if you know some things, and care about the world you live in — we'd like to hear from you.

I compiled this list because of the overwhelming sense that so many of the great people who are doing exceptional things here are just not getting the attention they deserve. As always, this list reflects our personal preferences — lots of nominations on the website but no votes — just Robin and me (and Jones). Enter your nominations at our Facebook page or in the Comments at the bottom of this page. Please treat yourself to these wonders, excitements, pleasures, comforts and satisfactions in 2016.

Job Announcement:

Organizing and Administrative Intern: Are you passionate about reducing carbon pollution to protect the environment? Do you love learning about alternative, green energies and fuel sources? The Clean Energy Project is seeking a proactive intern to help us educate and engage Nevadans, both grassroots supporters and business owners alike, on the economic benefits of clean energy.

About the Clean Energy Project: CEP is a small but mighty non-partisan, non-profit dedicated to powering the clean energy economy through education and engagement on the economic benefits of clean energy. The goal of CEP is to grow the clean energy economy and create jobs in Nevada and the West through policy development. CEP compiles and promotes the economic benefits of investments in energy efficiency and renewable energy through public education events, outreach and media. CEP focuses on the "business of clean energy" and is a technology neutral organization.

What We Require:

1. Preferred background or study in environmental sciences, nonprofit or business management, grassroots organizing, or other related discipline, but will consider applicants with demonstrated interest in energy issues and the environment. Campaign experience a plus
2. Strong communication and professional writing skills.
3. Proficient in Microsoft Suite Office.
4. General computer and software proficiency.
5. Organized, with an ability to prioritize time-sensitive assignments.
6. Creative and flexible with an ability to shuffle between tasks quickly.

Job Description:

1. Work with management to build our base of grassroots and business supporters.
2. Disseminate follow-up communications to supporters at the direction of the Executive Director or Program & Outreach Director.
3. Maintain communications with volunteers; including scheduling for shifts and generating call lists.

4. Work to recruit additional volunteers.
5. Maintain supporter database; including data entry and de-duplication.
6. Track progress on current goals and metrics.
7. Work with Executive Director on organizational administration.
8. Other duties, including administrative, as assigned.

Please send cover letter and résumé to cep@cleanenergyprojectnv.org.

The Clean Energy Project is an equal opportunity employer committed to a diverse workforce. CEP is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, age, ethnic background, sex, disability or sexual orientation. Applicants from diverse backgrounds are strongly encouraged to apply.

Our purpose at Pooha-Bah is:

- To reaffirm Newe (Shoshone) culture by sharing our language, stories, traditional skills and knowledge of the environment with other Newe, with a special focus on youth;
- To renew Newe sacred sites through regular Native gatherings and ceremonies, and to advocate and organize for their protection;
- To lead Newe ceremonies such as the Sunrise and the Sweatlodge Ceremony at Pooha-Bah and at Newe communities and spiritual gatherings;
- To empower others in their personal healing, through these ceremonies and the hot mineral waters found at Pooha-Bah.
