

Journal #3707 from sdc 8.24.16

Fast and Furious - Standing Rock Images and news

Could low oil prices help usher in a new era?

The Great White Gianforte Says Indians Just Need A Better Work Ethic

Lime slurry spilled into Missouri River - Bismarck Tribune

Pipeline on reservation in North Dakota spills 1M gallons of fluid

County blocks nuclear drilling test

The Saddest Olympic Celebration

In Nevada, Tribes Push To Protect Land At The Heart Of Bundy Ranch Standoff

About the war—the literal war—that global warming has become

Theresa Maldonado

Reno show of solidarity scheduled for

THIS THURSDAY, 8/25/16 - 5PM,..RENO DOWNTOWN PLAZA..#INM

"All NATIONS, ALL RELATIONS, ALL WATER" ALL INVITED

The Standing Rock Sioux Tribe has received notice from Tribal Nations who have officially taken action to support our opposition to the Dakota Access Pipeline. Below are current lists of those tribes who sent us signed resolutions and letters of support. We are aware there are more...standingrock.org

85

the have that

3 Reasons the Standing Rock Sioux Can Stop the Dakota Access Pipeline

For starters, this protest is about a competing idea for the future of the planet—and...

www.yesmagazine.org

People travel across international borders to support protest of Dakota Access Pipeline construction

A little rain didn't stop those protesting against the construction of the Dakota...

kfyrtv.com | By Sara Berlinger

CENSORED NEWS: Akwesasne Supports Standing Rock: Will Shut Down International Bridge if People Harmed

bsnorrell.blogspot.com

We're being sued – help us fight it

Things are escalating quickly, and we couldn't be more grateful for your help. Over the past few days several more tribal members have been arrested, including Standing Rock Chairman David Archambault II. In retaliation, Dakota Access LLC... change.org

From the Eagle Watch

August 20, 2016

Social Media at Standing

If you go to Standing Rock, DO NOT post it (your travel plans) on FB or ANY social media, as asked by Chairman Archambault. We are being watched by the FBI and police, we were warned that the National Guard is coming. They are going to close the roads to prevent supplies and support....so "go to the casino."

We need Water tanks with water to cook with, coffee, tea, sugar, potatoes, rice, tortillas, bread, tents, blankets, diapers, feminine hygiene products, trash bags, PAPER plates, cups, LONG RANGE WALKIE TALKIES, batteries, gas for generators, fire wood, toilet paper, wipes, dish soap, shampoo, soap, batteries, ALL 7 COLORS OF MATERIAL FOR PRAYER TIES, string to tie the ties, tobacco, sleeping bags, pillows, towels, creamer for coffee, fresh vegetables and fruit, canned goods, environmentally friendly cleaning supplies, you and your canupas, tarps, rain ponchos, socks, deodorant, posters, markers, spray paint wooden sign boards, first aid kits, flashlights and anything you can think of that campers can use. This is a cause we ALL need to be a part of....if you can't donate items....DONATE YOU, your voice.....YOUR SUPPORT!!!! PLEASE HELP OUR STANDING ROCK OYATE, they need you....WE NEED YOU. YOU NEED WATER.....you can't drink oil. NO DAKOTA ACCESS PIPELINE!!!! (NO DAPL)

Rock North Dakota Pipeline Construction Halted

The mainstream media has not been covering this very well. It's all over Facebook with people's on the scene phone videos and some drone shots. The local media, Bismarck Tribune is covering the story and trying not to be inflammatory about it.

Pipeline construction going under the Missouri River on Lakota territory has been halted by the construction company Energy Transfer Partners.

Some Indigenous women had put their bodies in front of big machinery and made the workers stop. The word has been sent out for supporters to come to the area. A camp has been set up for visitors. Law enforcement are frantic and all agencies are pouring in at great expense to the state and feds.

So far it is a peaceful protest with some 28 arrests for trespassing and mischief. These arrests are a crime in themselves as Indigenous people protecting their land are being arrested by cops whose main purpose is to protect private property. In this case it is a very controversial oil pipeline, yet another in an area where people are already very aware of the real costs of the oil industry.

The People want to protect the Water. They know what is only logical. We can live without oil but we cannot live without water. Isn't it a no brainer??

With people continuing to arrive every hour, it is a tense situation. The company will not wait long to resume its work. What will the people do? We anticipate the Military moving in. FBI and other agencies are already there in droves. Indigenous people are on high alert all across Turtle Island.

Kittoh

Here are a few links to help you get up to date on this matter.

<http://news.prairiepublic.org/post/1500-join-standing-rock-oil-pipeline-protest>

<http://www.wsj.com/articles/clashes-halt-work-on-north-dakota-pipeline-1471554332>

<http://www.npr.org/sections/thetwo-way/2016/08/19/490644450/amid-tribes-protest-construction-of-oil-pipeline-in-n-dakota-halts-for-now>

http://bismarcktribune.com/news/state-and-regional/governor-issues-emergency-declaration-in-response-to-pipeline-protests/article_6b189499-0d39-5223-93a4-5f10e53e735c.html?utm_medium=social&utm_source=facebook&utm_campaign=user-share

<http://www.kfyrtv.com/content/news/Number-of-protesters-at-Dakota-Access-pipeline-construction-site-causes-traffic-concern-390507891.html>

<http://indiancountrytodaymedianetwork.com/2016/08/15/dakota-access-pipeline-standoff-mni-wiconi-water-life-165470>

<http://www.unicornriot.ninja/?p=8319>

Some of the best footage is on Facebook:

<https://www.facebook.com/KILIRadio90.1/?pnref=story>

Standing Rock Sioux Tribe and IITC file Urgent Communication with the United Nations

Standing Rock Sioux Tribe and IITC file an Urgent Communication to the United Nations Citing Human Rights Violations Resulting from Pipeline Construction hosted.verticalresponse.com

1,500 join Standing Rock oil pipeline protest Native Americans from Wyoming, Colorado and as far as Oklahoma are pulling up by the busload to protest an oil pipeline in rural North Dakota. Construction news.prairiepublic.org By Amy Sisk

<http://readersupportednews.org/news-section2/318-66/38682-north-dakota-pipeline-protesters-hit-with-emergency-declaration>

Urban Native Era added 7 new photos.

Today, 100's gathered in prayer on the water of Cannibal River in North Dakota to say no to #DakotaAccessPipeline #NoDAPL

*

BREAKING!!

We've just received word that members of the Great Comanche Nation will be arriving within hours at Standing Rock, to Stand and pray with them again... See More

Sioux holy man Arvol Looking Horse, a Sioux holy man from the Cheyenne PJ Crouch at Standing Rock Sioux Indian Reservation.

Tiospa Zina Tribal School August 18 at 4:51pm ·

Chief Arvol Looking Horse stopped by to visit our Kindergarten Dakota Immersion classroom today.

La Raza Unida with William Kyle and 3 others ·

Please share far and wide let's show the unity between really the same people Native/First Nations and Chicanos/Raza. We are one mighty people when we unite! P. See More

CENSORED NEWS: Apache Naelyn Pike's message to Standing Rock Youths

Allie Fredericks Barricades going up on the road a few miles south of the veterans cemetery on 1806 near Fort Lincoln. High... bsnorrell.blogspot.com

Rainbow over the Missouri River, just south of the DAPL protest camps, taken Friday evening, Aug. 19. (Lost this pic.....:~(sdc)

Cheyenne River Reservation, leads hundreds out of a new protest camp set up near the Standing Rock Sioux Reservation boundary to bismarcktribune.com By Lauren Donovan

Diocese Backs Sioux Tribe - The Living Church

North Dakota diocese supports the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe's effort to stop the Dakota Access Pipe Line. livingchurch.org

Wendsler Nosie Sr, councilman of the San Carlos Apache Tribe and leader of the Apache Stronghold, traveled to North Dakota to offer support and prayers to Standing Rock Sioux Tribe.

Wendsler and Standing Rock chairman, David Archambault II met Saturday as two leaders and two men who understand what it means to fight for their people, their waters and their land.

The Apache Stronghold have been fighting to protect their sacred site Oak Flat in Arizona for 10 years with going on two years occupation from the foreign mining company, Rio Tinto. (www.apache-stronghold.com)

Photos by Allie Fredericks : allie@weare.org

Apache Stronghold Stands in Solidarity with the Standing Rock Sioux Against the Pipeline

Apache Territory has been taken away piece by piece from the beginning of the Reservation system. It began with the loss of the Chiricahua Reservation, the loss of the Aravaipa lands, then after the San Carlos Reservation was established, the loss of Mt. Graham for its timber, the loss of the eastern side for Copper, Silver and Water and then the loss of the western side for Copper, and Silver again. Just like the Apache, Sioux lands have been taken away for decades, beginning with a 1851 treaty that was not honored than another treaty in 1868, then gold was found in the Black Hills, then the 1941, 1954, and again in 1960 the reservation was reduced for Dams and flooding. Now they are threatened by an oil pipeline that is less than one mile away from their northern border that threatens their water source which is upstream.

The Sioux are fighting to keep the oil pipeline out of the watershed of sacred tribal lands, lands that are ancestral homelands. Likewise the San Carlos Apache Tribe and Apache Stronghold are trying to keep a sacred site, Oak Flat, from being destroyed by Resolution Copper and protecting the water that will be taken to mine the copper that will deplete the San Carlos water aquifers.

Wendsler Nosie Sr. and Apache Stronghold stand in Solidarity with the Standing Rock Sioux to protect what is left. Wendsler Nosie Sr. wrote in a letter from the Stronghold to the Standing Rock Sioux Chairman Archambault II, "As indigenous people, the recent stand against the Dakota Access Pipeline, and the inevitable loss of water and sacred places affects all people. Your issues are our issues."

After 525 years, it's time to actually listen to Native Americans

The Standing Rock Sioux are fighting the Dakota Access Pipeline — one of many indigenous groups opposing climate-wrecking projects.

grist.org

FINALLY! Front page of the New York Times

Sioux Take a Stand to Stop an Oil Pipeline By JACK HEALY

The Standing Rock Sioux tribe has sued to block the Dakota Access oil pipeline, which it says threatens water supplies and sacred lands. The dispute moves to federal court on Wednesday.

Steve Newcomb: " To an extent this is what the Dakota Access pipeline project comes down to: Whose territory is it, and whose values shall prevail in that territory? The values of the American empire? Or the spiritual and ecological values of Original Nations such as the Standing Rock Sioux Nation?"

Read more at http://

indiancountrytodaymedianetwork.com/.../standing-rock-s... *****

Standing Rock Sioux Nation vs. the Pipeline

My Navajo friend Valerie Taliman has written an excellent article about the standoff regarding the Dakota Access Pipeline and the recent arrest of...

indiancountrytodaymedianetwork.com

Mark Trahant: I'll post more this weekend.
Be open to complexity.

The most important thing in the Standing Rock story is making sure that water sources remains safe. Too many tribes downstream are on an effective sacrifice list. That's not acceptable and public opinion will be critical to turning that around. But a narrative that is not coming through in #NoDAPL story is that moving the pipe

1

ine or shifting to trains only makes it someone else's problem. What ever solution is found it... See More

I hardly opine in these pages but Mark brings up something very dear to my heart and that is that Councils review the status of their water rights, rights of way, leases, etc.....AND teach their young about the history and importance of them. These weeks will cause detractors to go after other tribes as retribution, so pay close attention and learn the techniques and strategies that bring success.

Could low oil prices help usher in a new era? Mark Trahant

TRAHANTREPORTS.com Second in a series A few minutes before noon on November 6, 2015, President Barack Obama stepped into the White House b... trahantreports.com

The Great White Gianforte Says Indians Just Need A Better Work Ethic*

The native peoples of Montana have some experience with rich white men from back east coming to their territory and telling them they need to change their culture to... intelligentdiscontent.com

Lime slurry spilled into Missouri River - Bismarck Tribune

Jun 14, 2016 - A tank overflowed at the Bismarck Water Treatment Plant Saturday, spilling 50000 gallons of lime slurry into the Missouri River.

Pipeline on reservation in North Dakota spills 1M gallons of fluid

An unknown amount of saltwater entered a bay that leads to Lake Sakakawea. indianz.com

County blocks nuclear drilling test

Bismarck Tribune-Feb 2, 2016

A Pierce County contingent, including county commissioners Duane Johnston, from left, Dave Migler and Water Resource Board member ...

Pierce County drilling moratorium blocks federal nuclear waste project Dickinson Press-F

Billy Cava

August 18 at 6:25pm ·

"I have never felt so helpless in my life[.] As a sportsman I have offered everything to my country but I cannot save it. On behalf of all the people who will die for the country that will no longer exist and for the culture which will long be forgotten, I am asking for your help.

Last year I built myself the only home I could afford—a tebuia, a traditional hut—right next door to my parents. A few months later, it was destroyed by waves.

...

The schools I have visited in Kiribati and the thousands of children I have met aspire to be something great. How do I lie to them and say their dreams are possible when our nation is disappearing? I beg the countries of the world to see what is happening to Kiribati. The simple truth is that we do not have the resources to save ourselves. We will be the first to go."

The Saddest Olympic Celebration

What do you do when you're competing for a country that might disappear? You dance.
www.theatlantic.com By Uri Friedman

- [Kiribati weightlifter is dancing to save his island from climate change
Rising seas threaten David Katoatau's Pacific Ocean island homeland.](#)
Washington Post
-
- [Weightlifter becomes crowd favorite with crazy dances Kiribati's David Katoatau is more than just a weightlifter; he's also a great dancer! Watch more from Rio at <http://www.nbcolympics.com> and download the NBC ...
youtube.com](#)

WildLands Defense

"When rancher Cliven Bundy claimed his family of Mormon pioneers had "ancestral" rights to the federal land in and around Gold Butte, Nevada, Vernon Lee scoffed... See More

In Nevada, Tribes Push To Protect Land At The Heart Of Bundy Ranch Standoff

National monument designations that bypass Congress are hugely controversial. In this presidential election... opb.org

From: Bill McKibben - 350.org <350@350.org>

Every once in a while I write something that seems worth sharing. Four years ago it was an essay in Rolling Stone about the new math of global warming that helped trigger the divestment movement. Today it's a piece in The New Republic about the war—the literal war—that global warming has become.

We're used to metaphors: the war on drugs, the war on poverty. But in this case carbon and methane—without malice but also without mercy—are waging a war on the civilization that emitted them. This year we've lost huge swaths of the world's coral; vast sheets of ice disappear daily. Our adversary is taking territory and taking lives.

So what would it mean to fight back? Most of the piece is devoted to that possibility: thanks to the engineers who have driven down the cost of renewables, we're at the first moment where that's a possibility. If we wanted to, we could—as a world—replicate the industrial miracle that won World War II. Instead of bombers we'd build turbine blades; in place of planes, solar panels. The reporting in the piece shows that putting up enough renewables to get us back on the path to 350 parts per million is possible—barely.

Thanks to researchers like Stanford's Mark Jacobson, there's a plan for every state and most nations; the question is, can we build for the future with as much commitment as we once built for war? The answer to that question is in our hands.

I hope you'll read and share this piece while this odd election season drags on; please share it with your friends and family and Facebook crew so that we can build the peaceful army we badly need.

By winter, our movement will be pushing harder than ever. Not just for change but for change on the scale we need.

Onward,

Bill McKibben for 350.org

P.S. If you want a sense of what this war looks like today, here are some pictures from Louisiana where completely unprecedented flooding has now killed 7 and forced 20,000 rescues from homes, cars, and hospitals. As in any war, we need to take care of the people being impacted: relief efforts can be directed here. And Louisiana is not the only place. We're also thinking of our colleagues in sprawling Manila today, where flooding has also claimed lives and left thousands in evacuation centers.

On a more hopeful note, brave fighters in North Dakota are taking a remarkable stand right now against a new pipeline planned for the edge of the Standing Rock Sioux reservation. Donate to their legal fund here.

Kukulkan Mascouten Trevino August 20 at 2:45pm ·

Indians are coming like a hurricane.....

In Loving Memory of Theresa Maldonado

Theresa Maldonado took her journey to the Spirit World August 21st, 2016 at the age of 78 with her family by her side. She loved all who knew her and was extremely PROUD to be from the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe.

Come celebrate her life at Walton's Funeral Home, this Friday, August 26th at 2pm with a reception to follow at the Stewart Indian Colony Community Center at 465 Clear Creek Avenue, Carson City, NV 89701.

The Family asks you to please bring Deserts for the reception to follow.

Thank you for all your support during this time!

;l';lk