When my Grandmother told me a Story/Legend, I listened. Sometimes I don't like to share...lol, but I figured that some people never got a chance to learn these things. :) Remember where you got it from. Hehe. Also, tried to write in Numu (paiute) the best as I could. Had to listen hard to what she was saying. LOL!

The 2nd Annual Nevada Economic Development Conference (Sept. 20-22 at the University of Nevada, Reno Joe Crowley Student Union) is an opportunity for economic developers, elected and appointed officials, business owners, and anyone interested in connecting with Nevada's economic development network.

“In order to compete regionally, nationally and globally, we need to work collaboratively with other governments,” Commissioner Marsha Berkbigler (Dist. 1) said. “I’m glad to see that’s a major part of the WNDD plan. We are going to see an enormous amount of growth and we need to work together with other governments to balance the work that needs to be done.”

Starting September. 20, 2016, will repeat daily until September. 22, 2016

8 a.m. - 5 p.m. University of Nevada, Reno - Crowley Student Union

PRESENTED BY:

The University of Nevada at Reno – College of Business, University of Nevada Las Vegas – Center for Business & Economic Research, Western Nevada Development District, Nevada Industry of Excellence and USDA Rural Nevada are collaborating to present the 2nd Annual Nevada Economic Development Conference.

Bob Fulkerson

Heard some very powerful testimony about environmental racism, climate justice and money in politics at today's "New Energy Industry Task Force" hearing, thanks to some very good organizing. Funny how the only thing that rankled a committee member was the insinuation that NV Energy controlled Nevada's energy policy with their campaign cash. SMH. Anyhoo, here's what I had to say:

Statement of Bob Fulkerson, PLAN State Director
New Energy Industry Task Force                      July 27, 2016

Good morning. My name is Bob Fulkerson, State Director of the Progressive Leadership Alliance of Nevada. PLAN is a statewide multi-issue coalition of 30 member organizations founded in 1994 to create a state that puts people and planet first.

It's important to be clear that this committee was formed in large part as a political solution to the justified public rancor raised from the Public Utilities Commission's decision to kill rooftop solar in Nevada. Public and investor confidence in our state's commitment to clean energy plummeted. In order to restore that confidence, this committee must take bold actions that go much, much further than simply fixing that ill-advised PUC decision.

Unfortunately, as long as our energy policy and policy makers are supervised by NV Energy, we'll continue to simply nibble around the edges.

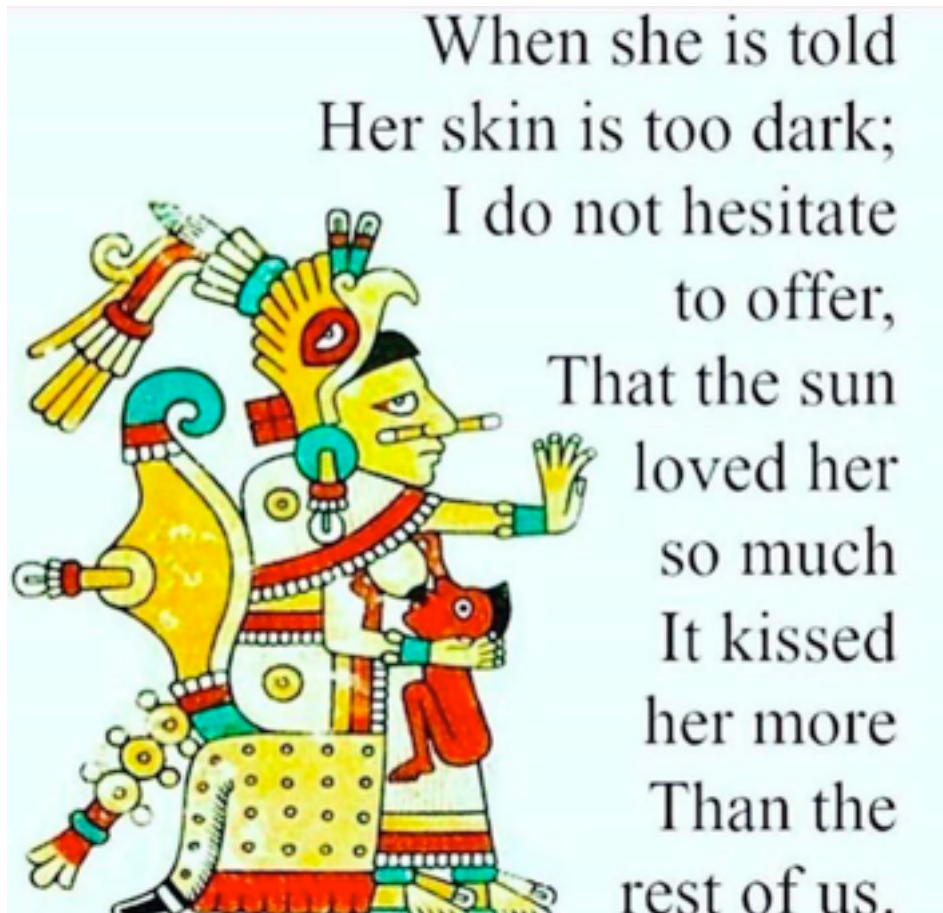

This committee's lack of urgency was made very clear on June 6, when it voted 5-4 against 50% Renewable Portfolio Standard (RPS) by 2040. There is an overwhelming demand for 100% renewables, yet we're not even going to try to get to 50%? In a quarter century? By voting against this achievable metric, this committee sent a signal that it is more interested in advancing NV Energy's interests and the status quo than boldly moving Nevada into a clean energy future.

I found the two abstentions on this committee by the Governor's appointees most perplexing. Abstentions must be explained. Did they have a conflict of interest? If so, what were they? I would like to ask Mr. Tuma and Chair Dykema to now explain their abstentions to the public.

The target of 50 percent RPS by 2040 was chosen so Nevada would be competitive with other states like California and Oregon. Nevada's renewable requirements should be just as aggressive as these other western states. Why aren't we? Because the political power and campaign contributions of the fossil fuel industry and NV Energy.

This committee must lay a foundation towards 100 percent efficiency and real clean energy that communities control and benefit from. Nevada's energy future should not be predicated on the profit motives of NV Energy and Warren Buffet. We must allow publicly owned power systems, similar to my grandfather's Rural Electrification Association and other cooperatives that flourished throughout America before giant energy companies drove them out.

Reno is the fastest-warming city and Las Vegas is one of the hottest cities in the United States. Nevada's low income and communities of color, who are least responsible for carbon emissions, are especially vulnerable to Nevada's heating climate with disproportionate energy costs, medical bills, diseases and fatalities.

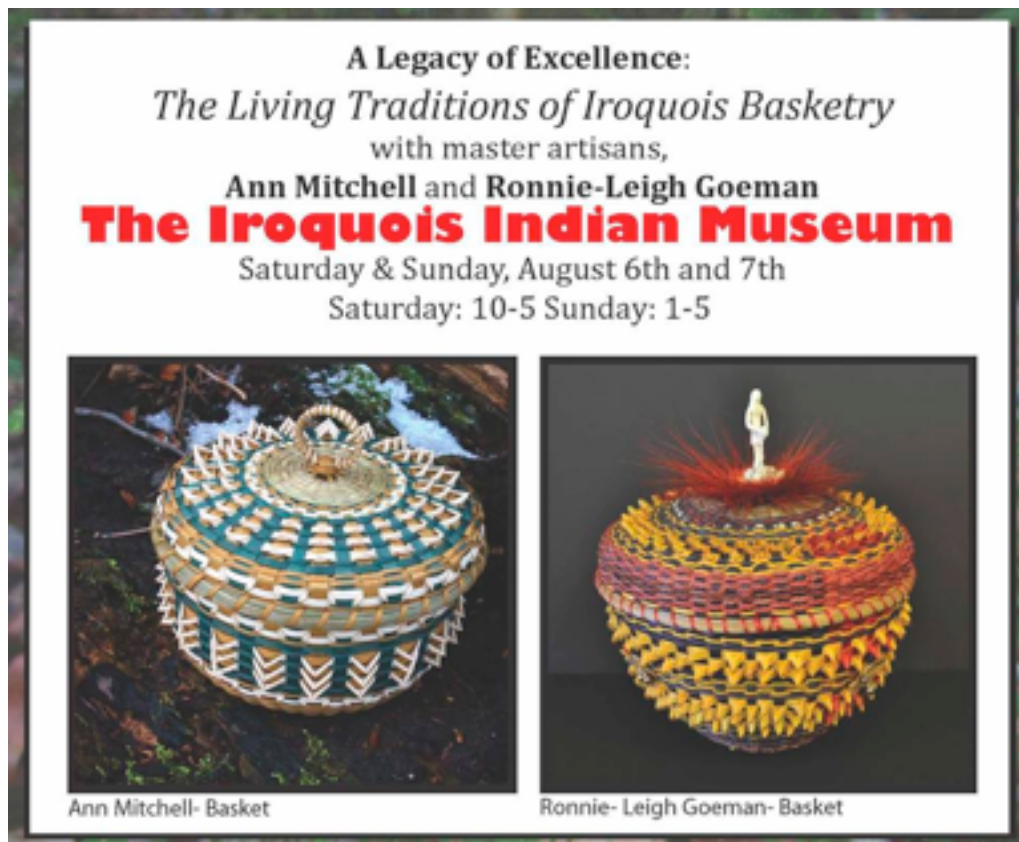

Since pollution isn't free for our communities, it shouldn't be free for polluters either. Nevada should impose a carbon tax and demand that a big chunk of revenues raised be invested in targeted job creation for low income and communities of color.

In conclusion, we demand this committee step up to ensure 100% clean energy. We will continue to organize and agitate to ensure Nevada achieves a clean democracy that results in a more racially and economically just state. Thank you.

The 2016 Tribal Lands and Environment Forum is just a few weeks away. There are a few deadlines coming up very soon we want to stress:

- The last day you can register online for the 2016 TLEF is Wednesday, August 3! After this date you will have to register onsite and pay the $125 registration fee then.
- The last day you can make reservations at the Mohegan Sun at the special TLEF rate is also Wednesday, August 3. After that date the Mohegan Sun will revert back to their normal lodging rates for anyone making a reservation.
- If you have registered, and indicated you would be mailing a check, please do so as soon as possible. And keep in mind that the early bird registration rate has passed and the registration fee is now $125.

If you have not registered yet, or made your hotel reservation, please visit our website at http://www7.nau.edu/itep/main/Conferences/confr\_tlef. We have also just put up the full TLEF booklet in pdf form if you would like to see all that will be on offer. While many of our special trainings and field trips have filled up, there is still room available in many of them. Attached you will find two flyers detailing two special opportunities for those working in tribal water programs. Please visit our website to see the other special trainings on offer, such as a unique training on Superfund Radiation Risk Assessment being conducted by staff from the Oak Ridge National Lab as well as USEPA.

We look forward to seeing you in a few weeks! Your TLEF Team

If you are a caregiver to an aging family member you know the special rewards and the unique challenges that come with the job. Your responsibilities can be overwhelming and there never seems to be enough hours in the day. Isolation, financial burdens, and the lack of knowledge of community resources can leave you burned out and your loved one receiving less than optimum care. However, you are not alone.

We want to hear from you.

Your service and care for your family is an important part of our community. At the Community Foundation of Western Nevada, as strongly as we believe that what you do matters, we also believe that your voice matters. That is why we have created the Caregiver Support Initiative, to address the challenges facing family caregivers to senior citizens. On Saturday morning, September 10, come to a free community convening at the Washoe County Senior Services Center. We will eat breakfast together and talk about caregiving issues. There will be a mix of senior service providers, elected officials, and caregivers at your table along with a discussion facilitator. Afterward, the entire room will summarize their table's conversation and talk about the most pressing issues.

Join Us. When we come together to listen to and learn from each other we have the power to impact both caregivers and our community. That is what the Caregiver Support Initiative is all about.

Attend the Senior Caregiver Support Initiative free community convening.
