

Journal #3711 from sdc 8.30.16

What you should know about the historic Native American battle happening now

World Water Week

Standing Rock Sioux Saga Continues

Seminole tribe and City of Miami challenge Koch brothers land grab

Growing plight of indigenous communities that have been displaced by national parks/nature reserves

The Base Camp Cabin - Cabin Obsession

Broadband Law Could Force Rural Residents Off Information Superhighway

Are you a caregiver to an elderly family member or friend?

GrantStation

Tahoe Summit

SoCal firm may buy Tahoe water companies After 30 Albums and 3 Recent Prizes, a Jazzman Flirts

With the Mainstream

Graveyard Protest to Start

MOSES ON THE MESA

1 hr ·

Entering the Bad
Lands. Three Sioux men on horseback. 1905.
Photo by Edward
S. Curtis.

SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY

[What you should know about the historic Native American battle happening
now.](#)

“It’s not a matter of whether there will be a spill, it’s when it will happen. Everyone knows what is at stake and we won’t be sacrificed. We are protecting the lifeblood of our people, these rivers are the arteries of Mother Earth.” –Angela Bevens, an assistant attorney of Sioux background, on the Dakota Access oil pipeline that is being constructed in North Dakota. The Standing Rock Sioux tribe has been protesting the pipeline over concerns about water pollution and the disturbance of culturally significant sites. Protests have shut down a pipeline work site, and a federal judge is reviewing whether or not the pipeline’s approval violated tribal rights. (Guardian)

The first day of World Water Week, kicked off in Stockholm Sunday and continues throughout the week. Join Circle of Blue and SIWI Tuesday, August 30 for a global interactive broadcast to explore how droughts, floods, and other water problems are stranding assets in the energy, mining, and agricultural industries. (World Water Week)

Lakota No Access Pipeline

<http://bit.ly/2bExyS4>

Mark Trahant with Marlo Hunte-Beaubrun and 2 others. Amazed at the smooth logistics, operational excellence at Camp Sacred Stone.

From my piece today: ... The most important lesson for any politician who drops by would be this: A clear message of resolve. There is a serious purpose for the people here, one that's not going away without a successful resolution... See More

Our veterans holding the blockade lilililil

From the Eagle Watch August 25, 2016

IMO, the "authorities" would like to wait til things die down so they can move in without the world watching. They are now freaking out at the numbers of people converging on the area.

Know your history. This is a dangerous situation that needs constant monitoring.

The below article was forwarded to us by a reader. We have left her comment in.

See also:

<http://bsnorrell.blogspot.ca/2016/08/akwesasne-supports-standing-rock-will.html>

Where much to my dismay, you are not allowed to cut and paste. And where MNN articles continue to be carried although my articles are seldom posted.

I would still like to know why the important series on the 2007 Sharbot Lake crisis, a phoney police led protest, was removed from MNN web site at the request/demand of one notorious Robert Lovelace.

Kittoh

TAKE A HINT, FOLKS.... WHEN THE PEOPLE SPEAK, THE FEDS SPEAK BACK WITH THE SIGN LANGUAGE OF FORCE. DEPRIVING PEOPLE OF WATER IS A WAR CRIME UNDER THE GENEVA CONVENTIONS. WHERE DO THE AMERICAN AUTHORITIES GET THE MANDATE TO COMMIT WAR CRIMES.... ESPECIALLY WHEN NOTHING BUT THE SPOKEN TRUTH OF THE PEOPLE IS "THREATENING" ANYTHING!

<http://countercurrentnews>

com/2016/08/police-cut-water-supply-native-americans-pipeline-protesters-skyrocket-number/

Stewart

Indian

School

1944

(click to enlarge)

Gov Orders Police To Cut Water Supply To Native Americans As Pipeline Protesters Skyrocket In Number

August 23, 2016 12:20 pm by Counter Current News Editorial Team

Thousands join protest camp as supporters are holding a rally in Washington D.C. on Wednesday outside of Army Corps hearing.

Growing in number and spirit, the Standing Rock Sioux protest against the Dakota Access Pipeline is swiftly gaining strength ahead of a federal hearing on the controversial project. Support has spread across the country, and thousands have descended on the peaceful [A]prayer camps[A] in recent days, prompting state officials on Monday to remove the demonstrators[A] drinking water supply.

North Dakota homeland security director Greg Wilz ordered the removal of state-owned trailers and water tanks from the protest encampment, despite the sweltering heat, because of alleged disorderly conduct, according to theBismarck Tribune, including reports of laser pointers aimed at surveillance aircraft.

[A]People are getting overheated now already,[A] said Johnelle Leingang, the tribe[A]s emergency response coordinator, as temperatures hovered around 90° F on Monday. [A]It[A]s very hurtful.[A]

The supplies were provided last week by the North Dakota Department of Health at the tribe[A]s request to support the roughly 2,500 people now gathered along the Standing Rock reservation[A]s border on the Cannonball River, near where the pipeline is slated to cross.

Standing Rock spokesman Steven Sitting Bear said he[A]s received [A]notifications from tribes all over the country that have caravans in route, so it[A]s continuing to grow.[A]

On Wednesday, high profile activists and supporters are rallying in Washington D.C. outside the U.S. District Court, where members of the Standing Rock Sioux will argue that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers granted Energy Transfer Corporation approval for the 1,772-mile pipeline without tribal consent.

The tribe says that the pipeline[A]which will carry up to 570,000 barrels of fracked Bakken oil daily across four states to a market hub in Illinois[A]puts the sacred waters of the Missouri River at great risk.

[A]The Army Corps of Engineers might back off[A] We might, after five centuries, actually listen to the only people who[A]ve ever successfully inhabited this continent for the long term.[A]

[A]Bill McKibben

Climate campaigner and 350.org co-founder Bill McKibben penned an op-ed on Monday titled [A]After 525 years, it[A]s time to actually listen to Native Americans.[A]

McKibben notes that in recent years Indigenous people like the Standing Rock Sioux [A]have been the vanguard of the movement to slow down climate change,[A] and offers a vision of [A]what it might mean if the if the Army Corps, or the Obama administration, simply said: [A]You know what, you[A]re right. We don[A]t need to build this pipeline.'[A]

[A]It would mean that after 525 years, someone had actually paid attention to the good sense that Native Americans have been offering almost from the start,[A] he continues:

One has the ominous sense of grim history about to be reenacted at Standing Rock. North Dakota authorities[A]who are in essence a subsidiary of the fossil fuel industry[A]have insisted that the Sioux are violent, that they have [A]pipe bombs.[A] There are rumors about calling in the National Guard. The possibility for renewed tragedy is very real.

But the possibility for a new outcome is there as well. The Army Corps of Engineers might back off. The president might decide, as he did with Keystone, that this pipeline would [A]exacerbate[A] climate change and hence should be reviewed more carefully. We might, after five centuries, actually listen to the only people who [A]ve ever successfully inhabited this continent for the long term.

Construction on the pipeline remains halted after developers paused the project last week in anticipation of the Wednesday hearing.

Meanwhile, a U.S. District Court hearing on whether a preliminary injunction should be issued against the protesters has been rescheduled from Thursday to Sept. 8, although a restraining order against the demonstrators has also been extended until then. Filing the order on Monday, U.S. District Judge Daniel Hovland wrote that factions are [A] [A]strongly encouraged to meet and confer in good faith[A] to try and resolve the dispute out of court, [A] the Tribune reported.

Updates are being shared on social media with the hashtags #NoDAPL and #RespectOurWater.

Instagram photo by Elephant Journal • Aug 24, 2016 at 8:43pm UTC

Seminole tribe and City of Miami challenge Koch brothers land grab

https://www.change.org/p/demand-federal-criminal-investigation-of-rick-scott-s-land-give-away-to-koch-brothers/u/17643761?

tk=wk_u4X0V_R0UptEyEUfTWuhSnys5huUxAebzGRHRnQc&utm_source=petition_update&utm_medium=ema

Researchers and human rights activists are calling attention to the growing plight of indigenous communities that have been displaced by national parks and nature reserves in the name of conservation. Even as governments crack down on hunting in protected areas, they are at times allowing mining and other development to occur. Guardian

The Base Camp Cabin - Cabin Obsession

Making Small Spaces Work
Built by mountain-climbing husband-and-wife engineers Tina and Luke, this “base camp” tiny home is a mere 204-square-foot, but don’t let that fool you. They utilized its small space wisely,...
cabinobsession.com

Broadband Law Could Force Rural Residents Off Information Superhighway

By CECILIA KANG

A federal court ruling may halt the spread of municipal high-speed internet providers, which often serve households and businesses where commercial cable and telecom firms have been unwilling to go.

Are you a caregiver to an elderly family member or friend?

We want to hear from YOU.

Register Now!

If you are a caregiver to an aging family member, you know the unique challenges and the special rewards that come with the job. Your service and care for your family is an important part of our community.

The Community Foundation of Western Nevada has created the Caregiver Support Initiative to address the challenges facing family caregivers to senior citizens.

On Saturday, September 10, we invite you to attend a free community convening at Washoe County Senior Services. There will be a mix of senior service providers, elected officials, opinion makers, and caregivers at each table along with a discussion facilitator. These conversations can inspire new ways we can work together to make family care giving more manageable.

When we come together to listen to and learn from each other, we have the power to impact both caregivers and our community. If you are a caregiver, or know someone who is, please spread the word and consider attending this open forum.

Get more information

I can't make it

Please feel free to contact the Community Foundation if you have any questions about the Caregiver Support Initiative.

Thank you for your time and interest. We hope to see you at the free community convening on September 10.

Sincerely, Community Foundation of Western Nevada 775-333-5499
When Saturday, September 10 9:00 AM to 12:30 PM PDT Add to Calendar

Where Washoe County Senior Services 1155 E. 9th Street Reno, NV 89512

Carson Stewart Indian School 194

Solar-powered Pipe desalinizes 1.5 billion gallons of drinking water for California

The Pipe in Santa Monica, California is capable of producing 1.5 billion gallons of drinking water each year.

inhabitat.com/solar-powered-...

How would you like to experience a day full of free information, seminars and ideas to help you grow your business?

The 11th annual NCET Small Business Expo is here, bringing a DOZEN educational sessions (all facilitated by industry experts) your way.

Check out these experts - and the hot business topics they'll be covering:

10:00 - 11:00 am - Funding Your Business - Loans, Microloans, SBA Loan and other surprising sources of Debt Funding

- Roger Kadz, Moderator, Nevada State Development Corporation
- Michelle Armstrong, Rural Nevada Development Corporation
- Nina Hallock, Great Basin Federal Credit Union
- Casey Prostinak, SVN | Gold Dust Commercial Associates
- Robb Selander, VEDC

11:00 - Noon: Funding Your Business - Equity and other Sources of Investment Funding

- Doug Erwin, EDAWN - (Moderator)
- Debe Fennell, Launch Moxie - Crowdfunding
- Chris Howard, The Ozmen Center - Venture Capital Financing
- Leonard Lafrance, Sierra Angels - Angel Financing

Noon - Small Business Legal Issues - Presented by

- Kelly McIntosh, Holland & Hart LLC

1:00 - 4:30 pm: Marketing Sessions - Presented by:

1:00 - 2:00 pm - Branding: Gain clarity around one of the most confusing buzzwords out there: branding. Learn how to identify your business's unique selling point and how you can identify who will be most receptive to your product or service. This session will also help you identify the best way to share your story to start solidifying your company's brand and inciting others to share as well.

- Identifying your unique selling point - Jane Holman
- Identifying your audience - Jane Holman
- Telling your story - Ira Gostin

2:00 - 3:00 pm - Media Outreach: Become your company's in-house media relations specialist by learning how to identify the appropriate media personnel to contact and the ways in which you can garner their consideration and eventual coverage. Dive into the ins-and-outs of writing an effective press release.

- Writing a press release - Amanda Horn
- Identifying appropriate media - Amanda Horn
- Reaching out to media - Amanda Horn

3:00 - 4:00 pm - Reputation Management: Today's highly transparent online environment means you have to safeguard your company's reputation. Learn how to respond to online criticism in a diplomatic, constructive manner, and discover next steps for managing potential crises to mitigate risks to your brand.

- Social media - Amanda McLernon
- Online reviews - Jackie Shelton
- Preparing for a crisis - Alison Gaulden

And check out our current list of exhibitors. (Just 11 booths left!)

Free Admission with Business Card

GrantStation

Sustainable Forestry Initiative: Conservation and Community Partnerships Grant Program

The Sustainable Forestry Initiative's Conservation and Community Partnerships Grant Program provides grants for projects that support partnerships between organizations interested in improving forest management in the U.S. and Canada and responsible procurement globally. Click above to learn more about the funding guidelines and application process.

Unitarian Universalist Association: Fund for a Just Society

The Unitarian Universalist Association's Fund for a Just Society supports organizations in Canada and the U.S. that are addressing issues of social and economic justice. Click above to learn more about the funding guidelines and application process.

National Funding.

Support for Contemporary Performing Arts

MAP Fund

The MAP (Multi-Arts Production) Fund, administered by Creative Capital, supports original new work in all disciplines and traditions of the live performing arts. MAP assists artists, ensembles, producers, and presenters of a high artistic standard, whose work in the disciplines of contemporary performance embodies a spirit of exploration and deep inquiry. MAP is particularly interested in supporting artists that question, disrupt, complicate, and challenge inherited notions of social and cultural hierarchy across the current American landscape. Up to 40 grants ranging from $10,000 to $45,000, with an average of $25,000, will be awarded. Applications for MAP grants must come from U.S. nonprofit organizations. (Artists or ensembles may apply through a fiscal sponsor.) Applying organizations and artists must demonstrate at least two years of professional experience. Round One applications are due October 28, 2016; Round Two applications must be submitted by February 3, 2017. Visit the MAP website for eligibility information and application guidelines.

Technology Programs for Underserved Teens Funded

Best Buy Foundation: National Grants

The Best Buy Foundation is dedicated to providing underserved teens access to opportunities through technology that helps them excel in school and develop 21st century skills for their future careers. The Foundation's National Grants support nonprofit organizations with national scope that create hands-on learning opportunities for underserved teens to engage in learning, experimenting, and interacting with the latest technologies. Targeted technologies include computing, digital photography, filmmaking and videography, graphic design, coding, website design, audio production, robotics, game development, and computer maintenance. Program grants, generally ranging from $100,000 to $200,000, are provided. Nonprofit organizations with existing out-of-school time programs and a proven track record of serving youth, ages 13 to 18, are eligible to apply. Organizations must be located within 25 miles of a Best Buy store or operation center, and have the ability to conduct programming in at least five cities across the country (not solely in one region). The application deadline is October 1, 2016. Visit the Best

Buy website to review the National Partnership Request for Proposals, take the eligibility quiz, and submit an online application.

Outstanding Healthcare Programs Honored

Henry Schein Cares Medal

The Henry Schein Cares Medal recognizes excellence in expanding access to healthcare for the underserved nationwide. Applying nonprofit organizations must demonstrate that their submitted program has expanded access to healthcare for the underserved in a novel and innovative way that is measurable and quantifiable. Emphasis will be placed on access to healthcare for children (birth to age 18), although all efforts to expand access to care will be considered, including those involving companion animal health. Programs must demonstrate potential for replication and large-scale impact. Three finalists will be selected among applicants from each of three fields: oral health, animal health, and medicine. In each category, a gold, silver, and bronze medalist will be chosen. Each medalist will receive a cash award in the following amounts: $15,000 for gold, $10,000 for silver, and $5,000 for bronze. In addition to the cash awards, each finalist will receive $10,000 worth of product from Henry Schein, Inc. The application deadline is October 5, 2016. Visit the Henry Schein website to learn more about the application process.

Grants Offer Native Plants for Outdoor Learning Centers

Wild Ones: Lorrie Otto Seeds for Education Grant Program

Wild Ones promotes environmentally sound landscaping practices to preserve biodiversity through the preservation, restoration, and establishment of native plant communities. The Lorrie Otto Seeds for Education Grant Program, established by Wild Ones, provides small grants to schools, nature centers, or other nonprofit educational organizations for the purpose of establishing outdoor learning centers. Funded projects should focus on the enhancement and development of an appreciation for nature using native plants. Examples of funded projects include butterfly gardens, nature trails, prairies, woodland wildflower preserves, etc. Projects must emphasize involvement of students and volunteers in all phases of development, and increase the educational value of the site. Grants of $100 to $500 are provided for the purchase of native plants and seeds. The application deadline is October 15, 2016. Visit the Wild Ones website to learn more about the program.

Regional Funding

Aging in Place Programs Supported in Company Communities

Griswold Cares Foundation

The Griswold Cares Foundation provides grants to nonprofit organizations throughout the country that enhance the quality of life for low-income seniors and adults with disabilities who choose to age in place. The Foundation provides support to organizations located within a 25-mile radius of Griswold Home Care offices. The Foundation's funding priorities focus on programs that provide services such as home delivered meals, transportation, friendly visitors, home chores and repairs, hospice, and respite and caregiver support. The Foundation also supports local community and grassroots organizations that provide other programs and services with the intent of helping those of limited financial means to age in place. Most grants are in the $500 to $2,000 range. Applications will be accepted from September 12 through October 17, 2016. Visit the Foundation's website when the funding cycle is open to submit an online application.

Funds for Community-Based Environmental Programs in Alabama

Legacy Grants Program

The mission of Legacy is to be Alabama's primary source for science-based, environmental information and education, while cultivating a legacy of environmental stewardship for generations to come. The Legacy Grants Program provides environmental education grants to nonprofit organizations and schools throughout Alabama that are planning a community-based environmental program. Grants of up to $10,000 are provided. Applications must be postmarked by September 30, 2016. Visit Legacy's website to download the grant application form.

Grants Address Health Issues in Colorado

Caring for Colorado Foundation

The Caring for Colorado Foundation is committed to improving health systems, focusing on population health and prevention, and working to solve the most pressing health needs of vulnerable and underserved populations in the state. The Foundation provides grants to nonprofit organizations, government agencies, and educational institutions throughout Colorado that address the health of the state's residents. The Foundation's funding priorities include oral health, mental health, the healthcare workforce, healthy children and youth, and community health. Applications are due the first Friday in March and the first Friday in October, annually. Visit the Foundation's website to learn more about the Foundation's online application process.

Support for Civic Planting Projects in Arkansas

Arkansas Flower and Garden Show: Greening of Arkansas Grant Program

The Greening of Arkansas Grant Program, an initiative of the Arkansas Flower and Garden Show, was developed to promote the idea of a greener and cleaner environment by encouraging civic plantings in communities across Arkansas. The program provides support to nonprofit organizations and civic groups for the development and ongoing care of community gardens, neighborhood parks, and high-profile public green spaces. Grants range up to $2,500, and 50% of the funds should be used for horticulture (trees, shrubs, and flowers). Applications must be postmarked by October 4, 2016. Visit the Arkansas Flower and Garden Show website to download the application form.

Federal Funding

Program Works to Improve Small Drinking Water Systems

Environmental Protection Agency

The Building the Capacity of Drinking Water Systems: Training and Technical Assistance for Small Systems program offers support to provide training and technical assistance to small public water systems, small wastewater systems, and private well owners located in urban and rural communities. The application deadline is September 30, 2016.

Program Seeks to Engage the Public With History

National Archives and Records Administration

The Public Engagement with Historical Records program supports projects that encourage public engagement with historical records, including the development of new tools that enable people to engage online. The application deadline is October 6, 2016.

Annual summit will highlight work to protect, preserve Lake Tahoe

Las Vegas Review-Journal

But significant improvements to storm- water runoff will also be part of the project ... The lake, shared by Nevada and California, is world famous and justly so, ..

Partnerships help form legacy of Tahoe summit

Tom Lotshaw, Lake Tahoe News

Restoring Lake Tahoe's environment is no small feat.

SoCal firm may buy Tahoe water companies

Lake Tahoe news

A Los Angeles County-based firm is interested in purchasing two Lake Tahoe water companies.

After 30 Albums and 3 Recent Prizes, a Jazzman Flirts With the Mainstream

By FRED KAPLAN

Steve Coleman, a bandleader-saxophonist coming to a residency at the Stone, fuses his scholarship of nature's rhythms and those of ancient cultures

Joseph Galata

Join our protest
please!!!.....Our Reno television media campaign began tonight.....!!!!..... We are protesting a big corporation that plans to start digging up 900 bodies of children, British and Irish and Swedish immigrants, African Americans, Native Americans and Japanese plus 6 Reno mayors... They are Buried Iin Reno's oldest cemetery ... And the corporation is planning on digging up the bodies and selling the land to developers to build high rise apartments.....
We are designing public protests ... Go to Hillside Cemetery Foundation in Reno ... Support the protest!!! ... Descendants are being denied access to visit their family owned plots!!! ...
Calling on all radio, television, newspaper and social media
reporters to PR this atrocity.

