This just in from HRPS: "We have a preservation emergency on our hands in Reno! Signs have been posted at the historic Hillside Cemetery at 900 Nevada Street in Reno stating that disinterment of bodies will begin on September 30, 2016.. . . Call the office of the owner/ developer who are calling this a 'restoration' project at 877-247-4662 and let them know we do not approve of this."

Visited Hillside Cemetery to attend a gathering honoring Johnson Sides this morning. He was buried at Hillside in 1903. The owner of the avenues and alleys plans to remove all bodies (800+) beginning September 30th. Isn't it a Federal offense to remove anything from an Indian Burial Site????

The 2016 pine nut harvest season kicks off on lands managed by the Nevada Bureau of Land Management and Humboldt-Toiyabe National Forest. You go out and are beat to the bushes by everyone else raking the bushes and leaves selling them in grocery stores.

THE "WILDLY FREUDIAN" SIDE OF AMERICAN FOLK BY JOHN ADAMIAN

Sidney Robertson Cowell was a pioneering ethnomusicologist who documented the bubbling diversity of the 20th century. An insightful observer of folk music in all its forms, she helped record American history in a way few others have.

Listen to some of Cowell's recordings (Mexican polka? A Scots Gaelic ode to whiskey?) and read about her extraordinary life. Read More Bucky Harjo Good Morning World! What, it's only 230 something! I woke up feeling refreshed, ready to begin a new day, so many things on my mind, something tugging at my heart, something pulling me out of my sleep, all I can see is that sacred camp back at Standing Rock, I actually miss feeling cold in the morning, miss the hard ground, my damp tent. Woke up because I'm thinking, what am I doing here? So much to think about, not too much but so much, everything that I had see just surfacing, was that really real? Or a dream?

Seeing people all over the world, though they are not physically in Standing Rock but Standing with from their places of Life.

How blind are the courts, how blind are the corporations that if and when they do decide to continue with the construction, that more than they know the waves of people will not stop, they will continue to rise in great numbers more than anyone has ever imagined. This movement is larger than one might think, it's powerful, when yo can see that people can actually hand to hand to hand to hand, live together, work together, pray together, dance together, Standing Rock is alive, it' breathe's, Standing Rock is Alive! I have talked with many, who like me went but came back and now I see what they must have felt. Everyday you see miracle's, what I have shown you is just a grain, just a tiny grain of sand, of what makes up Standing Rock. It is more powerful than you think, it's beauty is a life, a way of life, life of the ways of people. It is a living dream a living prayer by people of the world. Sleep I cannot....
