Bucky Harjo:As this moment in time here, visiting, with relations from home, near home, across the four directions of Turtle Island. To sit and listen to stories of creation, spiritual, and old time, brings many teachings of how it used to be as we sit in the darkness of camp tents, only lit with a few lights, and enjoying traditional food and company. This is doing our spirits and bodies good as we nourish these teachings. We know we are here, all for the same purpose, Mni Wiconi, to Protect The Water. Again, I cannot describe this feeling, or this moment, because so much is happening, I just know, I am here, belong here, and to decided whether or not to return home. People come and go, few stay but many return, saying hoe being has changed their lives. We got a taste of the cold, and yes, it was cold, not that I complain, but had to learn how to adapt and prevent from freezing all night.. The last few days were have been blessed with warm weather, and now, those prairie winds are upon us. We love what we do, we do it for love, Mni Wiconi, our future generations....*

Bixi Nibe Please if you cannot go to Standing Rock, help someone to get there. Let's get college student groups, Labor Unions, Women groups, religious groups, instead of going to the casino turn that bus around, let's Go Go Go!! Everyone on Earth needs to plan to go to Standing Rock to give some support. A few days of your Life Must be offered in exchange for all the benefits Water has given to our Life!!! Water IS Life It's THE DAY. Unless you have No Heart beating in your chest or blood rushing thru your veins!! No ancestral memory, no grandmother nor grandchildren in the future. Mni Wiconi

I just have to say here, that I accuse the United States with crimes against humanity. Especially in the form of psychological warfare against our Indigenous peoples of Mother Earth and our historical systematic genocide. The privatisation of seeds, destruction of the Amazon Rainforest (Texaco Oil Spill), human rights violations and the kidnapping of Leonard Peltier. To state just some. Water IS Life. We have the right to Live!! I Stand with Standing Rock. Demilitarize Indigenous territories Now!!!

Bucky Harjo Up early here at Standing Rock, walking in a cool morning to greet the day. Now up on FB Hill listening to morning songs and prayers, coyotes sing in the distant hills and our forever spy plane high above us. Over the years I have heard many people say if there were ever times like this where our land and people are mistreated, that they would be here? Where are these people, these warriors? Now is the time, now is the time. Come to Standing Rock, we need you, our children need you, the future generations need you! We are not asking that you stay but to be here for a few days even weeks. Imagine if the 200,000 that have come, all came at the same as one and we walked that pipeline. We would win in a heartbeat. This is not history, this is our story! Good morning relations of the nations, it is a good day, my love to you all. Prayers for Amy and Myron today. (Judge dismissed charges)

Deb Hymenez deepa, i was thinking the same thing today: the good that has come out of this is in seeing the solidarity of indigenous people. how honored i am to be able to be a part of this through what is posted on fb. may all the water protectors and land protectors heal and receive justice NOW!

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Abstract

This notice is for a new information collection.

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) regulations at 5 CFR part 1320, which implement the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., require that interested members of the public and affected agencies have an opportunity to comment on information collection and recordkeeping activities (see 5 CFR 1320.8\(d\)).

The Secretary's Indian Water Rights Office (SIWRO) is tasked with overseeing and coordinating the Federal Government's Indian water rights settlement program and is undertaking a study on the economic outcomes associated with Indian water rights settlements (IWRS). The purpose of the study is to identify and track social and economic changes that occur as a result of the implementation of enacted settlements. The Office of Indian Water Rights is located within the Secretary's Office. The Office leads, coordinates, and manages the Department's Indian water rights settlement program (109 Departmental Manual 1.3.E(2)).

II. Data

(1) Title: Indian Water Rights Settlements: Economic Analysis.

OMB Control Number: 1093-0NEW.

Type of Review: New Information Collection.

Affected Entities: State, Local & Tribal Governments as well as some Private Sector entities.

Estimated annual number of respondents: 48.

Frequency of responses: One time.

(2) Annual reporting and recordkeeping burden:

Total annual reporting per response: 2.73 hours.

Total number of estimated responses: 48.

Total annual reporting: 131 hours.

(3) Description of the need and use of the information. Indian reserved water rights are vested property rights for which the United States has a trust responsibility, with the United States holding legal title to such water in trust for the benefit of Indian tribes. Federal policy supports the resolution of disputes regarding Indian water rights through negotiated settlements. Settlement of Indian water rights disputes breaks down barriers and helps create conditions that improve water resources management by providing certainty as to the rights of all water users who are parties to the disputes. At a time of increasing competition for Federal funds, it is important to quantify and describe the economic impacts and net benefits of the implementation of enacted Indian water rights settlements.
