"Autary Indian" Hum. Hse. 1890-1903
Winn. Desert?

Dennis Eugene Castillo

my great great grandfather, born 1799, in the Humboldt Range, as for documentation, look toward Fort McDermitt, when they had gathered all the indians to the holding grounds..... according to the white history, has him living to be just over 104 years old....stories have been told that he had taught his son the value of gold, that the new white man was so interested in.....with looking at the history, yes my family was like royalty, for being indians, having no rights, no say, and no value at all...but my great grand father, had found the richest gold specimen in the state of Nevada in 1905, he was murdered for it in 1915....still no justification much to like this so called great nation we belong to.....much like all the mistruths which has been instilled upon us....

CSU to Admit All Qualified Students      July 3, 2017      by Susan Dutca

Due to a new budget deal, all qualified students will soon be admitted into one of the 23 campuses at California State University. With some of the more competitive schools only accepting 30-34 percent of its applicants, qualified students have been historically denied because campuses were too full. While the initiative gives students more access to higher education, there is a catch.

California's new budget deal will allow qualified California students to be admitted to another campus with space, in the event that they do not get accepted to their school of choice. CSU's initiative was inspired by the University of California, which promises admission to students who rank in the top 9 percent of graduates in the state.

Aside from needing to meet certain academic requirements, students will have to find ways to afford CSU's tuition, which is set to increase by roughly 5 percent, or $270 per student. In the 2015-2016 school year, 80 percent of its students received financial aid. In-state tuition for the 2016-2017 school year was $5,472 and 52 percent of students received federal Pell grants. While the new admission policy grants greater access to the university, "the biggest obstacle in getting a degree at a California state school may now be financial..." Consequently, the tuition increase could hinder certain low-income, first generation and like students from attending the university.

If you are a California resident or plan to attend a college or university in California, you may qualify for these California scholarships. For more college and financial information on California State University schools, visit here.

Sherman Alexie on How Trump is Turning the US Into a Reservation

“I didn’t survive all the stuff you’re gonna read about in this book because of humility,” Alexie said. “I survived because I’ve been pissed off for 50 years.”

[I've been pissed off for 47 years. It works. I'm still here. I feel resilience requires one to be pissed off enough to flip the world a bird and shout, 'Fuck you! You will not break me!' My soul rejuvenated by the proclamation, I can then turn with a sardonic smile towards the next trial waiting up ahead.]
