Nuclear Expert Peter Kuznick Concerned With Humanity's Future

Jane Ayers, Reader Supported News

Ayers writes: "Peter Kuznick is director of the Nuclear Studies Institute at American University and co-author (with Oliver Stone) of the 12-part documentary book and film series, 'The Untold History of the United States.' Journalist Jane Ayers conducted several phone interviews with Professor Kuznick over the past month regarding his concerns about the Trump administration's intention to add to the already existing trillion-dollar budget to modernize and increase the U.S. nuclear arsenals."

Support Public Lands Bills in the Legislature!

Mon 1:30 PM · Nevada State Legislature · Carson City, NV

On Monday, April 10th, two important public lands bills will be reaching committee in the Nevada State Legislature. Show up in support of public lands!

Senate Bill 413 (SB413) would establish the last Saturday in September of each year as “Public Lands Day” in the State of Nevada. An official Public Lands Day would serve as an annual reminder to our elected officials that Nevadans value our public lands and want to keep them public!

Details: Hearing is at 1:30pm, Room 2135.

Take Action Before the Hearing

1. Contact the Committee Members to urge them to vote yes on SB413:

SenGA@sen.state.nv.us

2. "Vote" in favor of the bill by clicking here. Look up SB413 under "Select Bill" or type SB413 into "type bill name here". A brief description of the bill - to establish a "Public Lands Day" in Nevada should pop up. Click "For" and fill out your constituent information. Click submit and you're done!

Senate Joint Resolution 12 (SJR12) seeks to rescind Senate Joint Resolution 1 (SJR1) that passed in the Nevada Legislature in 2015 and expresses support for the retention of federal management and control of federal public lands in this State. SJR1 urged Congress to transfer management of public lands in Nevada to state control and passed on an extremely thin margin and on pure party lines. Public lands should never be a partisan issue and it's imperative that we rescind SJR1 to send a clear message to our elected officials in Congress that Nevadans want to keep public lands in public hands!

Details: SJR12 Hearing is at 3:30pm, Room 2144.

Take Action Before the Hearing

1. Contact the Committee Members to urge them to vote yes on SJR12: SenLOE@sen.state.nv.us

2. "Vote" in favor of the bill by clicking here. Look up SJR12 under "Select Bill" or type SJR12 into "type bill name here". A brief description of the bill - to establish a "Public Lands Day" in Nevada should pop up. Click "For" and fill out your constituent information. Click submit and you're done!

Attend our National Monument/Public Lands rally in person next Tuesday afternoon, followed by the bill hearing. Assembly Joint Resolution 13, introduced by Assemblywoman Heidi Swank, expresses the support of the Nevada State Legislature for the enactment and use of the Antiquities Act and the designation of Basin and Range National Monument and Gold Butte National Monument in Nevada. We need to show our state legislators that Nevadans LOVE our National Monuments and want to see this bill passed!

When: Tuesday, April 11th / Rally at 12:30pm followed by the bill hearing at 1:30pm***

Rally: In front of the Nevada State Legislature. 401 S. Carson St., Carson City, NV.

Bill Hearing: Same location, Room 3138

Rally Details: Bring pro National Monument, Antiquities Act, Gold Butte, and Basin and Range signs. Pro Public Lands signs are great too - National Monuments are part of our great public land heritage! If you can, wear orange or gold in support of Gold Butte! We will have Gold Butte and Public Lands buttons for you to wear.

*Please sign in when you arrive at the bill hearings and note that you are attending in support of AJR13. Please note that you do not have to provide testimony - just sign in as a supporter!

Stephan Chambers of the London School of Economics closed out Skoll Week with a concise and characteristically witty summary of the most memorable moments from Oxford. "I've seen our movement grow over the years," he told the crowd. "Yours is hard, necessary, and sometimes lonely work." Sometimes this week can seem like a dream, he continued. "There were signs of real traction this week. Take these Skoll moments, treasure them, and store them for the days for when you are less hopeful."

The Militant Vol. 81/No. 15    April 17, 2017

Native American activist Red Fawn Fallis fights frame-up

BY ALYSON KENNEDY

DENVER — In a show of solidarity with the fight to free Red Fawn Fallis, imprisoned awaiting trial on frame-up charges for her participation in the Standing Rock protests, over 80 people turned out to an art auction at the Corazon Gallery March 24 to raise funds for her defense. Fallis, 37, is a community leader of the Oglala Lakota Sioux, a member of the American Indian Movement and a fighter for sovereignty for the Standing Rock Sioux in North Dakota. She grew up in Denver.

She was among 141 protesters arrested Oct. 27 when police forcibly removed them from their encampment on tribal treaty land in the path of the construction of the Dakota Access Pipeline.

All were released except Fallis, who is being held on federal felony charges of civil disorder, discharging a firearm in relation to a felony crime of violence and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon. She says she is not guilty of any of the charges.

As the police attacked, Fallis, who volunteered at Standing Rock as a trained medic, was aiding fellow “water protectors” injured by the cops’ mace and rubber bullets. Saying she was “being an instigator and acting disorderly,” police targeted, tackled and threw her to the ground. The cops claimed that while almost a dozen officers were piling on top of her, she somehow got a gun and fired three shots at police, none of which hit anyone. The state of North Dakota charged her with attempted murder.

The state later dismissed this charge so that the U.S. government could file the federal charges. Facing a maximum sentence of life in prison and a minimum of 10 years, her trial is set for July 17.

“Red Fawn is my niece. I spoke to her last night and she wants you to know that she loves you and she’s staying strong,” Glen Morris, a well-known fighter in the Colorado American Indian Movement and an associate professor at Colorado University, told the gathering. “We learned one thing from Standing Rock, that a new generation has been born. I haven’t seen this since Wounded Knee. It is scary to them and they want to make her an example.”

Fallis’ mother, Troylynn Star Yellow Wood, participated in the American Indian Movement’s 1973 occupation of Wounded Knee in South Dakota.

“Eleven cops were on top of her, it took 11 to arrest her,” said Morris. “In her arrest affidavit the police said she was an instigator and an inspiration to the youth. That’s why she’s in jail. If they think that we are going to let that happen to Red Fawn, what they did to Leonard Peltier, they are wrong.”

Peltier has been in federal prison since 1975. He was framed up for the shooting death of two FBI agents in a confrontation on the Pine Ridge Reservation and there is a long-standing campaign to win his freedom.

Fallis was recently moved to the Heart of America Correctional Center in Rugby, North Dakota, near the Canadian border.

"We will have a caravan up to North Dakota and fill the courtroom for the trial," said Morris. "We will let them know the world is watching." Sun Rose, 30, the curator of the art auction, grew up with Fallis. "When Red Fawn was put in jail, people were coming to us and asking what can we do," she told the Militant. "We had three venue spaces donated for auctions. We will have another one in June."

Much of the art was donated by Native American and local artists, and many of the pieces depict Fallis as a fighter.

A large delegation from the Indigenous Youth Council, formed by young protesters at Standing Rock, came to the event and performed a Native American chant.

"They want to make Red Fawn an example," Terrell Ironshell, co-founder of the council, told the crowd. "Red Fawn always encouraged us at Standing Rock. She would say, 'you don't have to be afraid of the government. This is our land.' This is not just about Standing Rock. It is about our rights as humans, as Americans and as an indigenous people."

In 1992 the Western Bands of the Shoshone Nation hosted the Healing Global Wounds event in Newe Sogobia, the People's Mother Earth to stop the US/UK testing of WMD,s in our country that has killed people and land across Turtle Island. It has been 25 years since our first conference and pow-wow that pressed the US/UK to stop testing of WMDs.

Radioactive fallout fell in rain across the continent. We are in Ft. Yates ND TODAY April 6-8, 2017 to bring the traditional Oceti Sakowin to our event, 2017 Native American Forum on Nuclear Issues to teach about nuclear issues and the threats, hazards and impact from radiation and the wide range of illness known to be plausible from exposure to radiation. We need your support and witness NOW because of the enduring threat to all life on the planet. Help us prevent OMNICIDE--ALL KILL of life on Mother Earth. There is no competency in American leadership from the Executive, Congress or the Courts now so, we will provide that leadership in the form of competent Native American governance. Please join us for the Scientist March in Las Vegas on April 22, 2017 at 10 am (listen for the drums) then attend our conference at the UNLV Marjorie Barrick Museum Auditorium beginning at 1 pm 4-22-17. Parking is free at UNLV!

Native American Forum on Nuclear Issues University of Nevada Las Vegas April 22 , 2017

After attending the Cleanuptheminesthemes.org event at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff, AZ, We took a tour of uranium mines on the Navajo Rez. At the top of the Grand Canyon rim we visited the Canyon mine and found them to be using snow blowers to mist the water (potentially uranium laden) from the mine shaft, dewatering. We also saw water trucks coming and going. They don't have a permit for that "illegal" activity at the Grand Canyon. Have informed Havasupai and Sierra Club and Clean Up The Mines is on the JOB. Thanks Klee Benally.
