Nevada matters. Be counted.

The statewide Nevada Census 2020 outreach efforts are underway, and it is critical to ensure all residents in Nevada are counted this year.

The 2020 Census data will help determine how and where approximately $675 billion in federal funds will be spent to improve our state, communities and neighborhoods. It will determine funding needs to improve our schools, build our roads and transportation infrastructure, deliver health care, job training and senior services in our communities.

Federal Judge: Pipelines Must Not Cross Streams Without Considering Endangered Species

Olivia Rosane, EcoWatch

Rosane writes: "A federal judge upheld his April 15 ruling Monday, tossing a key permit required by the Keystone XL and other pipeline projects to cross streams and wetlands."

Green Tips for Closed Museums (and Archives)

While museums and archives are closed, we could use this window to revisit operational assumptions and their carbon implications. This is an especially valuable exercise during this difficult time, as saving carbon can lower financial expenses for the museum and archives.

Dictionary of Archives Terminology Now Available

A is for access, advocacy, and appraisal. B is for bit rot and bone folder. C is for cataloging. And D is for Dictionary of Archives Terminology, SAA's fabulous new online resource at dictionary.archivists.org! With hundreds of new terms, thousands of citations from more than 600 sources, and a brand-new online platform, it's a major upgrade.

Compiled by SAA's Dictionary Working Group, the Dictionary of Archives Terminology \(DAT\) expands upon A Glossary of Archival and Records Terminology by Richard Pearce-Moses (SAA, 2005), which introduced a syndetic structure and a style that was descriptive-based on actual usage-versus prescriptive. The syndetic structure provides a rich context for each entry to help users better understand its meaning and usage.

With this web-only publication, the Dictionary Working Group has expanded the connections made for each entry and added hyperlinks to take you directly to related terms. Entries have been added to one or more of 34 categories. Not only do these categories provide additional context for individual entries, they provide users with the ability to view all terms within a particular topic.

The interface is another major upgrade. SAA partnered with IDM Group to implement its robust dictionary production software. The website makes it easy to search for terms, find related words, and trace their roots in the archival literature. Plus, it's just fun to use!

Call for Proposals for New Archival Futures Series

Archival Futures is a new series, published jointly by SAA and the American Library Association, that critically engages issues related to archives as—and for—the public good. This series combines provocative discussion with practical insight, examining professional values and current innovations in archival and library practice. Have an idea for a book? We are seeking proposals for volumes of 20,000 to 50,000 words, that demonstrate innovative thinking, cut across cultural and professional boundaries, and stimulate discussion about archives as institutions and sustaining forces in modern society. Contact series editors Bethany Anderson and Amy Cooper Cary with questions or submit a proposal.

Urge Your Representative to Join the Congressional History Caucus

What actions can we take to support federal funding of the humanities, even as we keep an eye on Congress's appropriations discussions? As we fight to ensure that drastic cuts don't become law, our most important assets are our allies in Congress. That's why this is the perfect time to make a push for the Congressional History Caucus! The History Caucus is the brainchild of the National Coalition for History (NCH), of which SAA is a policy board member. It provides a forum for members of Congress to share their interest in history and to promote awareness of the subject on Capitol Hill. Find resources for contacting your representatives.

3:34 The Wild Horses of Hungry Valley

Shot this video of the wild horses that visit us here in Hungry Valley from time to time. Not so much last year or the year before with the increase of off-road vehicles and ATV's and dirt bikes. Those who do lack respect for what we have here and been blessed with and at an increasing rate all this beauty is being desecrated forever. Nothing is being done to prevent this or to protect this beauty.

The deadline for submitting applications for either funding opportunity is June 12, 2020, with awards anticipated in August.

IMLS CARES Act Grants for Museums and Libraries supports museums and libraries in addressing their communities' immediate and future needs caused by the pandemic.

Projects may focus on preserving jobs, training staff, addressing the digital divide, planning for reopening, or providing technical support and capacity building for digital inclusion and engagement. Applicants are encouraged to prioritize services for high-need communities.

IMLS CARES Act Grants for Native American/Native Hawaiian Museum and Library Services assists tribes and organizations that primarily serve and represent Native Hawaiians in responding to the urgent and future needs of their communities. Applications focused on digital inclusion, technical support, rehiring or retraining staff, reopening planning, and other pandemic-related priorities are welcomed.

National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH)

The Division of Preservation and Access of the National Endowment for the Humanities is now accepting grant proposals for Humanities Collections and Reference Resources. These grants support projects to preserve and create intellectual access to such collections as rare books, journals, manuscript and archival materials, maps, still and moving images, sound recordings, art, and objects of material culture. Awards also support the creation of reference works, online resources, and research tools of major importance to the humanities. Eligible activities are wide-ranging, many of which involve the use of digital methods. Further details, including links to the application guidelines and other resources, are available at: <https://www.neh.gov/grants/preservation/humanities-collections-and-reference-resources>. Submit an optional draft by June 3, 2020; Application Deadline is July 15, 2020.

One of my personal favorite documents copied from the National Archives is a copy of a 1914 Department of Interior contract which included the following clause.:

No Member or Delegate to Congress, or Resident Commissioner, after his election, and other before or after he has qualifies, and during his continuance in office, and no officer, agent or employee if the Interior shall be admitted to any share or part of this contract, or derive any benefit which may arise therefrom, and the provisions of sections 114, 115 and 116 of the Codification of the Penal Laws of the United States, approved March 4, 1909 (35,Stat., 1109), relating to contracts, enter into and form a part of this agreement, so fas as the same may be applicable.

The language was the standard ending for all federal contracts, no matter the department. The law, amended slightly, still stands.
