Water worries in West force sports teams to get creativeThe Washington Post, 12/21/21

The Arizona Diamondbacks ripped out the grass at Chase Field ahead of the 2019 season, replacing it with synthetic grass. It was a business decision, but it also ended up being a water-conservation measure. The Phoenix-based major league baseball team thought it would save 2 million gallons a year. In the first season, the savings were closer to 4.5 million gallons, which is roughly the annual water usage of 49 households in the Phoenix area, according to the Arizona Department of Water Resources.

Honoring Memory of the Sand Creek Massacre in the Age of COVID

by Billy J. Stratton

The community of descendants of the Sand Creek Massacre maintain rituals of healing that honor the dead while affirming bonds of community that have been tested by a long history of dispossession and the recent trauma of the COVID-19 pandemic.

ANOTHER \$10 MILLION IN DROUGHT RELIEF SECURED FOR THE KLAMATH BASIN

KDRV, 12/21/21

The drought-stricken Klamath Basin will receive another $10 million in relief funding from the federal government, US Senators Jeff Merkley and Ron Wyden announced with Congressman Cliff Bentz on Tuesday. The latest funding from the US Bureau of Reclamation adds to $33 million in federal funding secured earlier this year for irrigators, Klamath Tribes, and wetlands important to wildlife. The Klamath Basin also recently saw a big win from state lawmakers as a major recipient of a $100 million drought relief package.

Resilience of the Yurok Tribe in the Klamath River Basin

NYC Food Policy Center, 12/22/21

Along the Klamath River, which runs through Oregon and Northern California, is a 44-mile stretch the Yurok Tribe calls home. They've claimed the title "great fishermen" of the region for more than 10,000 years.

Gratitude for water. Water has a tetrahedral molecular configuration that resonates with the geometry of the fabric of the vacuum and is thermodynamically inversed: it is one of the only compounds that expands when cooled and contracts when heated...

Mark Trahant

Today (12.22) was my last broadcast as a regular anchor (I will still be around at ICT after the new year, but in a back up role for the ICT Newscast with Aliyah Chavez.) Richard Trudell was our guest and said "It's been a pleasure to watch Indian Country evolve." So true. And I am so excited for my next chapter with Indian Country Today. ICT has so much talent and it's going to be wonderful to see where they take this medium.

HUD/ONAP FUNDING ANNOUNCEMENT UPDATE:

NEW! FY21 Indian Housing Block Grant Competitive Program NOFO - APPLICATION DUE DATE EXTENDED TO JANUARY 4, 2022. ONAP experienced delays with the posting of the IHBG Comp FAQs and a problem with one of the recorded webinar trainings on the Codetalk site. HUD certainly understand the importance of these resources in the development of your applications. Accordingly, we have officially extended the IHBG Competitive Program application due date from December 1, 2021, to January 4, 2022. On Nov. 29, 2021, Grants.gov issued a notification of the extension to applicants that signed up for notifications of updates to this funding opportunity. Please note that IHBG Competitive NOFO FAQs are now posted on Codetalk. HUD will monitor the IHBGCompetitiveProgram@hud.gov mailbox closely for questions and comments.

Jan. 11, 2022 Tribal Listening Session: Tribal Consultation on FY 2022 CoC Program Competition and Funding Opportunities

On May 25, 2021, the Office of Special Needs Assistance Programs (SNAPS), working with the Office of Native American Programs (ONAP), held a second consultation to provide additional information regarding the Continuum of Care (CoC) Program and the FY 2021 CoC Program Competition in which Indian Tribes and Tribally Designated Housing Entities (TDHEs) were eligible to participate for the first time. The competition opened on August 18, 2021, and applications were due on November 16, 2021. On January 11, 2022, at 3:00 p.m. Eastern Time, SNAPS and ONAP will conduct a Tribal consultation session to provide information and solicit feedback from Indian Tribes regarding the FY 2022 CoC Program Competition and registration process as well as the following funding opportunities:

- Youth Homelessness Demonstration Program (YHDP); and
- Unsheltered Homelessness and Rural Homelessness NOFO

Due to the ongoing COVID-19 National Emergency, HUD will again host a virtual Tribal consultation via webinar to provide Tribal leaders the opportunity to provide comments to HUD. Tribal leaders and their TDHEs are highly encouraged to participate. Additional information regarding the Continuum of Care is available for review on HUD's Website. Additionally, HUD also encourages written comments from Tribal leaders via email to CoCTribalConsult@hud.gov and enter "Tribal Consultation" in the subject line of the email. Input from Tribal leaders is essential to the development of HUD's programs.

HUD Announces Formation of Tribal Advisory Committee comments requested by Jan. 14, 2022

HUD is pleased to announce the formation of its first Tribal Advisory Committee – the HUD Tribal Intergovernmental Advisory Committee (TIAC). TIAC will be made up of a standing group of Tribal leaders who will advise HUD on housing policy and other matters that impact Indian Country. HUD recently published a Notice in the Federal Register that details the proposed structure of the TIAC and invites the public to provide comments and feedback to HUD. The Notice can be accessed here. Comments must be submitted electronically through the Federal eRulemaking Portal at www.regulations.gov and are due on or before January 14, 2022.

ONAP strongly encourages you to provide feedback to the Department on TIAC and looks forward to inviting Tribal leaders to submit their nominations for membership on the TIAC in the near future. The TIAC will give Tribal leaders a greater voice and will help ensure that the Department lives up to its duties and upholds its trust responsibility to Tribal Nations.
