All human beings are descendants of tribal people who were spiritually alive, intimately in love with the natural world, children of Mother Earth. When we were tribal people, we knew who we were, we knew where we were, and we knew our purpose. This sacred perception of reality remains alive and well in our genetic memory. We carry it inside of us, usually in a dusty box in the mind's attic, but it is accessible.

PBS Reno Partners with TEDxReno in 2023

RENO, NV (JAN 19, 2023) – PBS Reno has announced a yearlong partnership with TEDxReno to bring to the community inspirational stories and opportunities from thought leaders and entertainers who are changing the world!

The community is invited to attend an exclusive TEDxReno Livestream Watch Party on Saturday, February 4, 2023, from 8:30am to 1pm in the PBS Reno Community Room. PBS Reno will provide a light breakfast and boxed lunch. Tickets can be purchased on PBS Reno's website for $25 each.

The TEDxReno Livestream Watch Party will be hosted by Squeeze In co-owners Kay Salerno and Shila Morris, who also own Infinite Energy Group.

“We are excited about partnering with PBS Reno to bring world-class thought leaders to our community,” said Kaya Stanley, TEDxReno Organizer. “We encourage everyone to join our live Watch Party at PBS Reno to hear talks from NYT best-selling authors on everything from breaking through barriers and innovations in preventing opioid addictions to shifting perspectives and personal branding. Everyone is invited to our After Party at the National Automobile Museum to meet all of our speakers!”

PBS Reno's yearlong partnership with TEDxReno includes additional Watch Parties, along with mutual promotion on-air, print, digital channels, and social media platforms. The goal is to create a buzz in the community about TEDxReno, its speakers, and its impact regionally and globally.

“This partnership with TEDxReno is an extension of our mission to Entertain Your Curiosity,” said Megan Myers, PBS Reno Vice President of Content. “To be able to bring our viewers access to these TEDxReno speakers whose stories impact our lives falls in line with what PBS Reno does each day, which is providing quality and trustworthy content to everyone in our community.”

About PBS Reno

As of February 2022, PBS Reno Channel 5.1 is watched weekly by more than 113,000 people in approximately 62,000 households in northern and central Nevada and northeastern California, with viewership on multicast channels Reno Create 5.2 and PBS KIDS Reno 5.3. PBS Reno channels are also available on cable, satellite services, and via livestream on YouTube TV. PBS Reno provides PBS national programming and award-earning, locally-produced content, with local content posted weekly to PBS Reno's YouTube Channel. PBSReno.org provides engaging interactive content, including the video portal at watch.PBSReno.org that streams all locally-produced content and most PBS national content. PBS Reno serves students, teachers, parents and caregivers through immersive educational services including Curiosity Classroom Workshops that bring classroom lessons to life with standards-based lessons and activities. Through the support of local corporations and foundations, as well as thousands of individual members, PBS Reno has been delivering public television and educational services to the communities it serves since 1983.

About TEDx, x = independently organized event

In the spirit of ideas worth spreading, TEDx is a program of local, self-organized events that bring people together to share a TED-like experience. At a TEDx event, TED Talks video and live speakers combine to spark deep discussion and connection. These local, self-organized events are branded TEDx, where x = independently organized TED event. The TED Conference provides general guidance for the TEDx program, but individual TEDx events are self-organized. (Subject to certain rules and regulations.)

About TED

TED is a nonprofit organization devoted to Ideas Worth Spreading, often in the form of short talks delivered by leading thinkers and doers. Many of these talks are given at TED Conferences, intimate TED Salons and thousands of independently organized TEDx events around the world. Videos of these talks are made available, free, on TED.com and other platforms. Audio versions of TED Talks are published to TED Talks Daily, available on all podcast platforms.

TED's open and free initiatives for spreading ideas include TED.com, where new TED Talk videos are posted daily; TEDx, which licenses thousands of individuals and groups to host local, self-organized TED-style events around the world; the TED Fellows program, which selects innovators from around the globe to amplify the impact of their remarkable projects and activities; The Audacious Project, which surfaces and funds critical ideas that have the potential to impact millions of lives; TED Translators Program, which crowdsources the subtitling of TED Talks so that big ideas can spread across languages and borders; and the educational initiative TED-Ed. TED also offers TED@Work a program that reimagines TED Talks for workplace learning. TED also has a growing library of original podcasts, including The TED Interview with Chris Anderson, WorkLife with Adam Grant, Far Flung with Saleem Reshamwala and How to Be a Better Human.

Grayscale postcard of Toltec Indians on exhibit at the United States National Museum, now the National Museum of Natural History. There are two Native American men in the exhibit and they are cutting into a block of stone. The postcard is unused, but the message side has a printed note about the Toltecs: "The Toltec Indians of Mexico, like the Maya of the Yucatan and Guatemala, were master builders of prehistoric America. Although they dwelt in simple huts, their temples were of stone, quarried from the mountain side and intricately carved with stone tools. The two men in this group are represented in the act of cutting designs in blocks of stone."

About Jake:

In November 2022, NCAI and Grow with Google announced the expansion of the Grow with Google Digital Coaches program—which equips businesses with robust digital skills to unlock growth opportunities—to train Native-led businesses with the help of a dedicated Digital Coach from the community. Jake Foreman is Grow with Google’s Indigenous Community Digital Coach and, as such, he empowers Native American small businesses with monthly digital skills workshops, local hands-on coaching opportunities, and events for businesses to come together and learn from one another.

Jake is an Absentee Shawnee citizen who resides in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and is a Program Director at New Mexico Community Capital. As a trainer for NCAI’s training program, incubated with support from Grow with Google, Jake has helped hundreds of Native American entrepreneurs in New Mexico develop skill sets to support and build their businesses. Jake now brings these trainings directly to Native American communities across Indian Country and partners with NCAI to host monthly national webinars.
