High elevations in Northwest could see first snow of the season this week:

A shift in weather patterns is expected to bring the first snowfall of the season to high elevations in the Northwest, including Reno, Nevada. Temperatures are predicted to drop significantly, with Reno experiencing a decrease of 20 to 25 degrees Fahrenheit compared to weekend values. (upi.com)

Funding is Still Available for Tribal Broadband Connectivity

The Department of Commerce has recently awarded grants, totaling nearly $3.5 million, to Tribal communities here in Nevada and across the country to boost high-speed Internet access through the Tribal Broadband Connectivity Program.

This move, part of the “Internet for All” initiative funded by legislation that I voted for, aims to enhance Internet service for Tribal households and businesses and is part of a $1.79 billion fund already awarded to 198 Tribal entities.

An additional $980 million is available to apply for by January 23, 2024. You can learn more about this program and how to apply at the application homepage.

HUD’s Indian Community Development Block Grant FY23 Notice of Funding Opportunity Resources and Tools: Application Deadline: Oct. 5, 2023

HUD Imminent Threat Grants – Set aside of the Indian Community Development Block Grant (ICDBG) allocation for non-competitive, first come-first serve grants to eliminate or lessen problems which pose an imminent threat to public health or safety of Tribal residents.

Application Deadline: Ongoing and may be submitted at any time. Procedures and info. at <https://www.hud.gov/sites/dfiles/PIH/documents/PG18SEP27PNPG1011F.pdf>.

Neighborhood Access and Equity (NAE) Grant Program

The Department of Transportation is accepting applications for the Neighborhood Access and Equity Grant (NAE) Program. Tribes are eligible to apply. The NAE Program provides $3.2 billion in Inflation Reduction Act funds for projects that improve walkability, safety, and affordable transportation access and address existing transportation barriers, especially in disadvantaged or underserved communities. The program also provides funding for planning and capacity building activities in disadvantaged or underserved communities, and funding for technical assistance to local governments to facilitate effective planning for surface transportation projects. View the NAE Program page for more information about eligible projects, facilities, and recipients.

Drinking Water System Infrastructure Resilience and Sustainability Program

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) announced $19 million in new grant funding that will work to improve the climate resilience of the nation’s water infrastructure.

How To Apply: Visit www.grants.gov under opportunity number EPA-OW-OGWDW-23-01, assistance listing number 66.448. Applications due November 6, 2023.

The funding available under this competitive grant opportunity will assist public water systems in underserved communities, small or disadvantaged, that are working to prepare for and reduce vulnerability to impacts from climate change ranging from extreme flooding to extreme drought.

For questions, submit to ResiliencyGrant@epa.gov up until October 16, 2023.

For more information on this grant opportunity: www.epa.gov/dwcapacity/drinking-water-system-infrastructure-resilience-and-sustainability

Environmental justice and equity are a central part of EPA's programs and this action advances progress under President Biden's EJ Strong Initiative by investing in communities with a legacy of environmental injustice concerns. Through this grant, EPA is seeking applications for projects that will benefit underserved, small, and disadvantaged communities.

Background

EPA's Drinking Water System Infrastructure Resilience and Sustainability grant program was established under the America's Water Infrastructure Act (AWIA) of 2018. AWIA improves drinking water and water quality, deepens infrastructure investments, enhances public health and quality of life, increases jobs, and bolsters the economy. ## Tlingit & Haida ·

Congratulations to culture bearer and Chilkat weaver Anna Brown Ehlers, who received Rasmuson Foundation's Distinguished Artist award!

For more than 30 years, Anna has been recognized for her mastery of Chilkat weaving that has made significant contributions toward the preservation of our traditional arts. Her weavings include Chilkat robes, tunics, dancing aprons, dance leggings, bibs and vests, and are featured in museums worldwide. Most importantly, Anna has contributed her work for at.óowu and wooch yáxh (fostering social and spiritual balance). They are danced, displayed, gifted and studied at many cultural ceremonies and beyond.

Earlier this year, Anna also received an Honorary Doctorate of Fine Arts from the University of Alaska Southeast.

Congratulations also to tribal citizens Shgendootan George, Robert K. Mills, and Lyndsey Brollini, for receiving a fellowship award from the Rasmuson Foundation and bringing your creative excellence and accomplishment in the arts to Alaska!

Suppressed Histories Archives

A very fine vegetal fiber weaving tradition (yes, baskets) in northeastern California, among the Achumawi / Atsugewi / nine Pit River nations. Women made these conical burden baskets which they used in gathering food, weaving fibers, whatever; and also carried babies on their backs in them. The gorgeous patterns are woven with the greatest skill. They are weavings.

They're often described as Hat Creek or Pit River baskets, this one is labeled "Hat Creek Twined Burden Basket, c. 1890," made from pine root, bear grass, and maiden hair fern. The motifs on these baskets also appear on women's hats in these cultures and in the wider Plateau region. (I posted about the basket hats a few years ago.) I don't know the significance of them, though they are reminiscent of Tree of Life motifs in many parts of the world.
