Snake River salmon agreement formalized amid pushback from shippers, irrigators:

Western farmers, irrigators, and shippers at a conference in Reno, Nevada, expressed concerns about a salmon restoration plan they believe was crafted without their input. The plan, criticized for focusing on the potential breaching of dams, was part of a broader initiative involving federal officials and tribal leaders. (agri-pulse.com)

- 1851 An Act extended all laws then in force regulating and intercourse with Indians over those tribes living in the Territories of Utah and Arizona.
- 1937 Washoe Indians were issued a corporate charter and became formally organized.
- 1973 Native Americans took control of a richly symbolic settlement at Wounded Knee Creek in South Dakota to protest federal treatment of Native Americans and alliances between federal officials and entrenched tribal leaders.

Feb 28

- 1859 Congress carved Nevada Territory out of Utah Territory and Dakota Territory out of Nebraska Territory.
- 1877 Another treaty was broken by the U.S. when the Black Hills were seized from the Lakota.
- 1891 Congressional act amended General Allotment Act of 1871 to allot each Indian a 1/8 section.

Feb 29      Watch out, guys!

Mar 1

- 1973 UNM students Larry Casuse and Robert Nakaidene abducted Gallup mayor Emmett Garcia because of their outrage over his alcoholic exploitation of Native

Amerians at his saloon in Tse Bonito while he was chairman of an anti-alcoholism project.

1977 PLPT chair James Vidovich and BOR lawyer met revere conservation and Sierra Pacific Power Company officials about water stored in Stampede Dam, viability of spawn for Lake's fish, and drought reserves.

Mar 2

1899 President McKinley signed legislation making Tahoma a national park, though instead of the native name, naming it Mt. Ranier National Park after a British military officer who fought to keep the United States from coming into being — Peter Rainier.

1992 President Bush issued a proclamation designating 1992 as the “Year of the American Indian” based on Congressional legislation, PL 102-188.

Mar 3

1832 Worcester v. Georgia ruled federal authority over Indian affairs exclusive. The State initially refused to comply with the decision, reportedly saying, “John Marshall has made his decision, not let him enforce it.”

2008 A traveling exhibit sponsored by the U.S. Embassy in Indonesia, “Sacred Legacy: Edward S. Curtis and the North American Indian”, opened in Medan, the capital of the province of North Sumatra, after stops in Jakarta and Bandung.
